Dupont May Build Another Film Plant in Circleville

The Dupont Company is studying the possibility of constructing a plant here for the commercial manufacture of "Teflon", polyvinyl fluoride film, it was announced today by R. E. Heckert, manager of the local Dupont plant.

The local plant makes "Mylar", a polyester film.

Final decision must await completion of engineering studies at the Circleville plant as well as further assessment of the potential markets and other economic factors, Heckert said.

"Teflon", a new product of Dupont research, is now being manufactured in small quantity at a pilot plant in Buffalo, N. Y.

The film has outstanding weatherability, toughness and chemical stability.

THE FILM IS expected to be used outdoors as a decorative and protective surface for wood, metal and composition building materials and as a glazing material.

It also is expected to be used in the electrical and packaging fields.

The new plant, if constructed here, probably would be located on Dupont property adjacent to the present plant. No information is available at the present time on the size of the contemplated plant, or on the number of employees, Heckert explained.

Mighty Gale Whips Britain

14 Men Drowned As Ships Sink

LONDON (AP) — Fourteen men may have drowned in the shattered wrecks of two small vessels which sank in a mighty gale raging round the coast of Britain today.

Numerous other craft were in trouble in the storm.

Further south, off the East Anglian coast, a Liberian freighter, struggled against gales sweeping it toward the jagged shore.

Even the mightiest liners struggled against the fury of the storm that swept far out across the Atlantic.

The Queen Elizabeth radioed after a day and night battering that it would not reach Cherbourg until Tuesday morning, 12 hours late.

The liner plowed through the center of the storm's 125-mile winds that churned up waves 80 feet high. Inch-thick porpoises in first-class cabins 40 feet above the water line were reported to have been smashed by the waves. Five cabins were flooded.

No passengers were hurt.

Ashore, the storm brought floods. Many roads were impassable and dozens of houses in exposed coastal towns were damaged.

All of South Sweden and the southern Baltic were in the grip of one of the worst blizzards in living memory. As the storm whipped the area for the third day in a row, the death toll rose to five.

The heavy snow also was blanketing Norway, blocking roads and rail lines. High winds continued to endanger shipping along the rugged Norwegian coast. A Danish and a Swedish fishing vessel were in distress.

In central Norway, emergency crews worked to clear ice that stopped a hydroelectric plant and plunged the homes of 30,000 people in the Helgeland area into darkness.

Ex-Jap Envoy Says Dec. 7 Stab 'Risky'

TOKYO (AP) — The attack on Pearl Harbor 18 years ago today was "a risky enterprise" that if detected earlier might have cost Japan half its fleet, says Kichisaburo Nomura, Japanese ambassador to Washington at the time.

The former admiral and diplomat in an interview called Japan's axis membership and attack on American great blunders. He said they were "forced on our responsible people by young, audacious elements."

Nomura likened these elements — rightists and military extremists — of the prewar period to present-day left-wing radicals now agitating for Japan to scrap its U.S. alliance.

Only 10 days ago about 700 persons were injured in a clash between police and youthful demonstrators against revision of the U.S.-Japan alliance.

Now 82, Nomura is healthy and active as a conservative member of Parliament and president of a phonograph firm.

"Those who wanted us to get on Hitler's and Mussolini's bus made a mistake," Nomura declared. "Now, others say Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung are moving along. But I feel there is only one road for us (the West). Japan should not repeat its mistakes."

Nomura once again denied that he had advance knowledge of the Pearl Harbor attack.

Police Arrest 2 Men, Juvenile On Bike Theft

Two Columbus men and an 11-year-old local youth were arrested here Saturday on a charge of stealing a motorbike owned by Richard Miller, 337 1/2 E. Corwin St.

Being held here are Larry Adkins, 21, and Larry Callihan, 18. Police today said the motorbike was taken Friday night.

The men and the juvenile were picked up following an unusual chain of events. Police St. Robert Temple spotted the motor and front wheel of the bike when he by chance checked the men's car Friday night while it was at a local service station. The sergeant was unaware at the time that the motorbike had been stolen.

Sgt. Temple later learned that a motorbike was missing. He remembered the license number of the suspicious car and a trace of the plates led to Adkins and Callihan.

SGT. TURNEY Ross and Temple said questioning of the two men disclosed that they had disassembled the motorbike, kept the motor and front wheel and disposed of the rest of the vehicle at Dorney Road south of Circleville.

Sgt. Ross said Adkins and Callihan apparently became frightened after Sgt. Temple checked their car. The officer said the men sped back to the Dorney Road area and dumped out the motor and the wheel.

The complicated theft became more tangled yesterday when police went to Dorney Road to recover the motor and the front wheel. The bike equipment was gone.

At least one hunter seeking game in the area Saturday said he noticed the motor at the spot where Adkins and Callihan said they left it.

Sgt. Ross said Adkins and Callihan probably will be cited into Municipal Court today. The youth will be referred to juvenile authorities.

20 Slaughtered On Ohio Roads Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An automobile crash that took four lives, on slippery Ohio 77 south of Zanesville Sunday, was the low spot on another death-dealing weekend of traffic on Ohio's highways and streets.

At least 20 traffic deaths were recorded in the 54-hour period, 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday, tabulated by The Associated Press. One miscellaneous casualty lifted the total accidental death count to 21. The latter was a case of a baby suffocating in his crib.

The snow flurries and rain that marked the weekend may have been a large factor in approximately doubling the toll over the last 54 hours of the previous (Thanksgiving) weekend. The total gave further evidence that "normal" weekends are every bit as hazardous as holiday weekends.

The fatalities:

Friday Night
Robert Kessinger, 18, of Lynchburg, in an auto collision at the junction of U.S. 50 and Ohio 251 near Georgetown.

Saturday
Willie Slone, 41, of Frazesburg, when his car collided with a coal truck on a curve on Ohio 13, about four miles north of Newark.
Gilbert Deozon Jr., 16, of Cincinnati, thrown out of an auto when it hit a utility pole in Cincinnati.

Charles R. Thompson, 65, of Scio (Harrison County) when his auto crashed on U.S. 22 near Hopedale in Harrison County.

Carl Atherton Jr., 32, of near Utica, in an auto crash on Ohio 13 south of Utica.

Addison Brewer, 38, of Middletown, when the car in which he was riding collided with another on Ohio 73 north of Middletown.

Mrs. Essie Mullen, 37, of Warren County, when her car skidded off a Cincinnati street and hit a tree.

Million Cheer in Pakistan For Visiting U.S. Chieftain

President Labels Welcome In Turkey as 'Stupendous'

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—President Eisenhower took with him from Turkey today memories of the greatest reception ever given a foreign visitor to the Turkish capital.

Eisenhower himself termed the welcome he received on his arrival Sunday from Rome "the most stupendous I have ever experienced."

Estimates of the crowds that cheered him ranged from a police figure of 400,000 to unofficial tallies of 700,000.

Bands played, men danced and people shouted "yasha" (long live) as the President went by, standing bareheaded in an open limousine. His arms were outspread in greeting.

Eisenhower responded enthusiastically to this outpouring of spirit.

"I am confident," he told Turkish President Celal Bayar at a state dinner Sunday night, "that the United States, with other friends and allies, will continue to support the economic development and security of Turkey."

"I am certain this combined effort will be successful because no power on earth, no evil, no threat can frustrate a people of your spirit."

Istanbul newspapers hailed the first visit by an American president to Turkey as history-making. Press secretary James Hagerty told newsmen Eisenhower was completely overwhelmed by the welcome he got and the scores of signs on triumphal arches lining his route.

The one that impressed the President most said in English, "Welcome Ike to your second home."

A joint communique summarizing Eisenhower's talks with Bayar, Premier Adnan Menderes and other Turkish leaders cited the warmth of feeling the American executive found.

The communique said Bayar and Eisenhower agreed that any easing of tensions could not be one-sided.

The statement also urged an "effective controlled system of disarmament" and declared the "future of humanity" depends on solidarity among the free nations.

Eisenhower paused briefly Sunday in his world-wide quest for peace to draw inspiration from Pope John XXIII.

The President emerged from his 27-minute audience with the Pope's earnest wishes for God's blessing upon him. Eisenhower said he was inspired by the Pope's approval of the free world's efforts toward "peace and friendship in freedom."

The Pope also expressed "sentiments of benevolence and admiration which we cherish for the American people." He said he rejoined that the United States, under Eisenhower, is striving so actively "toward the lofty ideals of a loyal and effective concord between nations."

The President said: "I thank Your Holiness for the words you have addressed to me, my family and my country. I am also grateful for your blessing."

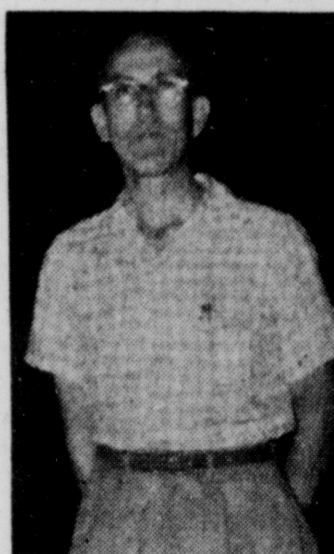

The President was accompanied by his son and daughter-in-law, Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, and James C. Hagerty, his press secretary. The Pope received them in his private library.

Ike Is Elated By Reception From Orientals

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — A million cheering Pakistanis — by official estimate — gave President Eisenhower today the most thunderous reception ever accorded a foreign visitor.

Shouting, waving people packed the streets and the roads from the airport as Eisenhower arrived from Turkey on the third stop of his 22,000-mile mission of peace.

The President was deeply moved by the outpouring of affection and called the welcome "tremendous," said James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary.

Greeting with delight, the American President stood erect in the back of a white convertible and waved to the colorfully clad Pakistanis jam-packed along his route into Pakistan's largest city.

Each time the American visitor waved his hat, the crowds responded with delighted roars of welcome.

"Eisenhower zindabad!" — "long life to Eisenhower!" — the vast throngs roared over and over.

The teaming city of two million was festooned for carnival. The Stars and Stripes and Pakistan's green and white crescent banner waved on all sides, from poles and triumphal arches. A host of steamers, of every color of the rainbow, added to the brilliance of the scene.

Karachi definitely was happy to see Ike, and Ike to see the city and its people.

Thousands of Pakistanis pushed and shoved their way into the broad corner square near the U.S. Embassy where the President and his host, President Mohammed Ayub Khan, changed from the automobile to a stately red and gold presidential coach drawn by six spanking black horses. Then the majestic, slow procession made its way to the presidential residence, where Eisenhower will make his headquarters for his 40-hour stay.

Karachi was strung with colored lights on all sides. As night fell, it looked like a city adorned for Christmas.

The President's big orange-nosed jet airliner touched down at Mauripur Air Force Base right on schedule at 3:30 p.m., after a 2,260-mile flight from Ankara, Turkey.

CHAPTER ONE A LONG WINTER

In northern lands near the top of the world Christmas comes in the wintertime.

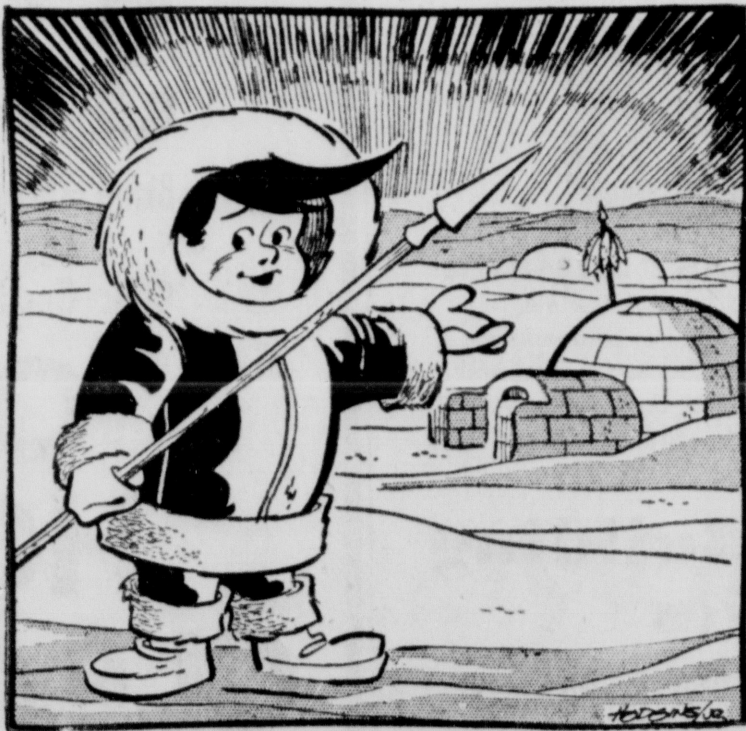

In Southern lands near the bottom of the world it is different. There Christmas comes in summer.

In June, July and August, the Northern children swim and picnic and walk barefoot in the woods. But during these very same months Southern Hemisphere children ride sleds and skate and wear gloves every day. For these children summer doesn't come until December and Christmas itself often comes on the hottest day of the year.

There is, of course, a scientific explanation for this strange state of affairs and you have probably heard this explanation and accepted it as, very properly, you should.

But some folk say there is another reason, not at all scientific, why December comes in summer near the South Pole while at the

the President on the last 50 miles of his journey.

Eisenhower stepped from the plane with a big smile on his face to shake hands with Ayub Khan. A 21-gun salute boomed out across the field, and the Pakistani President introduced members of his government.

Eisenhower continued to smile as a navy band struck up the national anthems of the United States and Pakistan, allies in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. Then, as he and Ayub Khan reviewed an honor guard, the American President talked with great animation to his host.

Welcoming his visitor, the Pakistani President referred to his own country as the firm ally of the United States for world peace in "cooperation among like-minded nations."

Eisenhower replied that he had been "looking forward to this visit with the greatest anticipation, and I know I am not going to be disappointed."

America and Pakistan, he continued, "ought to live together in peace and work together for what is good."

Eisenhower added that America and Pakistan "ought to work together for peace and mutual security, but from a position of strength."

Health Board Urges Food Handler X-ray

Although the Circleville Board of Health has passed an ordinance requiring food handlers to have permits to work, it has decided not to enforce the ordinance strictly.

The board is asking that all food handlers submit voluntarily to chest X-rays when the tuberculosis unit is in Circleville later this week.

John Himrod, health commissioner, made the announcement today. He said that the board discussed the possibility of requiring permits from all food handlers, but decided to continue on the volunteer basis due to the extra work required of the health department and food handlers as well.

"As long as food handlers comply with the request to have chest X-rays, we will not need compulsory food handler permits in Circleville," Himrod said. "This will save the city and everyone time and will give the public the protection it deserves."

The X-ray unit of the Tuberculosis and Health Assn. will be in Circleville, Friday and Saturday, from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

It will visit Williamsport Wednesday from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. The unit also will visit Ashville Thursday from 10 a.m. to noon, 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Can Agriculture in Russia Catch Up with America's?

Editor's Note — In a short time, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev says, the Soviet Union's farms will be outproducing the United States. Can it be done? In this revealing article, the first of four based on a recent tour of the Soviet Union, an American farm expert evaluates the challenge.

By DICK HANSON
Editor, Successful Farming Magazine
Written for The Associated Press

Can the Soviet Union catch up with us agriculturally? This question could be answered with "yes," or "no," depending on the Soviets themselves.

The answer is "no" in the next 10, 15 or 20 years, if they continue their present rate of improvement. The answer could be "yes," if they suddenly decide to throw their economic weight strongly behind agricultural improvement.

If they pulled all the stops — as the Russians apparently have done in their rocket program — Soviet agriculture could make tremendous strides in relatively short time.

At present, it appears very unlikely that such drastic steps will or can be taken. The scientific progress being made by the Soviets is probably taking its toll in other areas. Agriculture appears to be one of them. Manpower is still the big tool in increasing production in the Soviet Union as opposed to the United States, where the substitution of machine-power for manpower is the basic approach to increased efficiency.

These are some of the general conclusions derived from my recent tour of key Soviet farm areas. I found that output per laborer is the measuring stick on Russian farms. Comparing a Soviet farm worker's output with the output of an American farmer must be a frustrating experience indeed for Soviet agricultural leaders. There just isn't any comparison.

There are a number of reasons for this poor showing by Soviet farm workers.

Much of the work on a Russian farm is done by hand — whether it's digging potatoes or feeding cattle. Consequently, it takes a great many people to do the work. The location of some of the best land in the Soviet Union is a production handicap in itself. The Ukraine, lying to the north and west of the Black Sea, is often referred to as the breadbasket of the Soviet Union. The land is good, no doubt about that. But the heart of the Ukraine is in the same latitude as Winnipeg, Canada.

This eliminates the possibility of growing a number of crops. It is too cold, and the growing season is too short. There are other areas in the Soviet Union where the climate is more favorable to such crops as corn and legumes, but just how much of this land is tillable is another matter.

It is doubtful that the average Soviet farm is making good use of fertilizer and other yield-increasing products. Under the Soviet agricultural system, it is much simpler to expand acreage than to increase yields already under cultivation.

Thousands of acres of "new" land have come under the plow in the past few years. However, a great deal of this land lies in an agriculturally hazardous sub-humid and semiarid zone east of the Volga and the Urals.

Our own foreign agricultural service reports that about 90 million acres were added to the Soviet crop area in the 1954-56 period. Even with low yields because of the weather, that many additional crop acres contributed greatly to the over-all Soviet farm production figures.

3 Big Ohio Cities Show No Climb in Murder Rate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The murder rate in three Ohio cities was the same in the first nine months of this year as it was in the same period of 1958.

Akron had 10 murders in each of those time spans. Cleveland had 50 murders each time. Youngstown had seven murders in each period.

The figures are taken from a new set of crime statistics compiled by the FBI from data submitted by police departments in U.S. cities of 100,000 population or more.

The FBI's murder category includes violent deaths from non-negligent manslaughter.

In contrast to the murder rate in the three other Ohio cities, Canton had none in the same period this year as compared with two murders in the first nine months of last year. In Cincinnati, murders rose from 23 to 35.

Here are the comparative crime figures for Ohio cities over 100,000 in population for the first nine months of both years (1959 figures first):

Akron—Murder, non-negligent manslaughter, 10 and 10; forcible rape, 10 and 34; robbery, 136 and 232; aggravated assault, 46 and 89; burglary, 1,185 and 1,182; larceny over $50, 583 and 597; auto theft, 1,004 and 893.

Canton—Murder, non-negligent manslaughter, 0 and 2; forcible rape, 2 and 4; robbery, 51 and 56; aggravated assault, 11 and 13; burglary, 366 and 437; larceny over $50, 252 and 325; auto theft, 189 and 225.

Cincinnati—murder, non-negligent manslaughter, 35 and 23;

forcible rape, 73 and 70; robbery, 160 and 157; aggravated assault, 190 and 236; burglary, 1,008 and 1,072; larceny over $50, 914 and 832; auto theft, 697 and 741.

Cleveland—murder, non-negligent manslaughter, 50 and 50; forcible rape, 57 and 64; robbery, 669 and 879; aggravated assault, 412 and 412; burglary, 1,789 and 2,209; larceny over $50, 782 and 971; auto theft, 1,689 and 1,757.

Columbus (no figures available for 1958) (1959 only) — Murder, non-negligent manslaughter, 20; forcible rape, 38; robbery, 304; aggravated assault, 571; burglary, 2,181; larceny over $50, 1,416; auto theft, 860.

Dayton—murder, non-negligent manslaughter, 18 and 13; forcible rape, 12 and 8; robbery, 143 and 166; aggravated assault, 213 and 160; burglary, 1,149 and 1,236; larceny over $50, 373 and 332; auto theft, 551 and 433.

Toledo—murder, non-negligent manslaughter, 5 and 7; forcible rape, 20 and 17; robbery, 195 and 215; aggravated assault, 160 and 146; burglary, 1,149 and 1,311; larceny over $50, $975 and $210; auto theft, 386 and 437.

Youngstown—murder, non-negligent manslaughter, 7 and 7; forcible rape, 4 and 1; robbery, 57 and 83; aggravated assault, 15 and 20; burglary, 500 and 626; larceny over $50, 407 and 483; auto theft, 251 and 172.

Record Consumption Of Steel Predicted

CLEVELAND (AP)—Barring a resumption of the steel strike, the metalworking industry will use a record 21 million tons of steel in the first three months of 1960, Steel magazine predicted today. The magazine said a major factor in its prediction is the 2.24 million cars the automobile manufacturers are said to be planning for production. Steel inventories of the nation's metalworking plants — down to eight million tons during the 116-day steel strike—now have climbed to 8½ million tons and are expected to hit 10 million by the end of December, the publication said.

Metzgers' 6000 caged hens made money in 1959

The J. E. Metzgers of Elida have combined modern poultry housing with low-cost egg production to show a profit, even at this year's low egg prices.

Operating in a new pre-fab cage house purchased through their Purina Dealer and feeding a low-cost Purina bulk ration, they have produced eggs at an average feed cost of only 15.4¢ per dozen. This is over a full year's operation on their 6000 caged layers.

"Our hens went into the cages on October 1, 1958," reported Mr. and Mrs. Metzger recently. "They peaked at 81% lay and we're still hitting 72% after a year in the cages, with normal culling. We've found it pays to feed a really good ration—Purina—to get top production with low feed cost per dozen."

Come in, let us help you get started on a low-cost ration using your grain and Purina Concentrates. This ration is producing eggs for about 13¢-15¢ a dozen total feed cost for good farmers in this area.

Sun's Power Is Untapped

Theories about converting the sun's energy into electricity are old hat, but a Michigan research scientist has come up with something new. He says it should be possible to install a solar conversion unit on the roof of a home which not only supplies current electrical needs, but stress the excess during favorable weather for use in rainy or otherwise inclement periods.

Of course, this scheme hasn't been perfected yet (it seems they never are), but is there a logical reason why it cannot be? Along with nuclear power, solar energy promises to be none of the truly far-reaching paths yet to be followed. It is the one fuel man cannot deplete, short of blowing up the planet.

Research on more efficient means of producing electrical energy is certain to increase as the industrial and consumer demand continues to grow. In many parts of the world, the incandescent light bulb is still considered a luxury. Electrical appliances are rare treasures enjoyed by only the upper crust, and even then consist of the most primitive models, long since abandoned by the more advanced societies.

Even in the Western Hemisphere, there is no shortage of traditional sources of power. Thus, as enticing as is the picture painted by contemporary dreamers of future civilizations, there is no particular need for hurrying the realization of those dreams. Expanding populations and a slow awakening by the more backward peoples to the good things of life are inevitable pointing to the day when there will be a need for innovations such as built-in roof generators activated by the sun's rays.

Human necessity is the greatest motivating force for the progress of civilization, and it is not yet ready to mobilize the resources necessary to capture the sun.

Yule Party Problem Solved

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—The executives of many companies are worried about whether to have an office Christmas party this year.

They are afraid that if they don't hold a cheery staff get-together they will offend their employees. They also are afraid that if they do allow a holiday shindig the affair will get out of hand.

Horace McGrubb, chairman of the giant Acme Tiddlywinks Co., is one corporation head who doesn't have to worry about the party problem.

He solved it a week ago with a letter.

"With the approach of the holiday season, the question again has been raised whether the Acme Tiddlywinks Co., should have an office Christmas party. In the spirit of true industrial democracy which has always animated our firm, the management has decided this is an issue that should be resolved by employee vote," he wrote.

"The management is prepared to sponsor an office Christmas party on its premises the afternoon before Christmas, or, if the employees so decide, they can instead simply take the afternoon off.

"If an office Christmas party is held, the management naturally will shoulder all expenses. Wives will be invited, of course, as we regard them as essential partners in the operation of the Acme Tiddlywinks Co.

"A plentiful supply of refreshments, consisting of apple juice and sandwiches, will be supplied, courtesy of the management.

"A tentative program for the party has been drawn up. It will consist of the following:

"A short history of the Acme Tiddlywinks Co., to be given by Miss Winifred Myopia, head of our research department.

"A brief speech by President Horace McGrubb explaining why, because of the intense competition in the tiddlywinks industry, the firm will be unable to declare a Christmas bonus this year.

"There will follow an hour of parlor charades and a number of contests, including the three-legged potato sack race. This should provide a lot of fun for all.

"The party will conclude with an hour of group Christmas carol singing, led by Mrs. Horace McGrubb, a gifted soprano who gave up a promising concert career to wed the head of the firm."

The letter was posted on the bulletin board.

Fifteen minutes later a spokesman entered the McGrubb's office and said:

"Sir, the employees have decided by a vote of 312-0 that they'd rather not have an office Christmas party this year."

Genius Will Expose Itself

By George Sokolsky

Just as a decade ago, Americans believed that we possessed a quality referred to as "know-how," which other nations did not possess, so today we grow pessimistic over a phrase "rate of growth." The power of phrases to confuse men's minds is very potent indeed. It is almost paralytic. It makes some of us despondent because we assume that we are no longer as good as we used to be.

When we believed that we possessed know-how, which others did not possess, we were suffering from an inexcusable egotism. Actually, there is no monopoly of brains. Intelligence is individual not collective. There is no American intelligence or British intelligence or Russian intelligence. There was the intelligence of Thomas Edison, of Albert Einstein, of Guglielmo Marconi, of Dmitri Mendeleev, of Sigmund Freud, of Ludwig van Beethoven, and so one goes through names, lists of names in every category of intellectual activity. The names represent persons, not committees; men or women, not nations.

GRIDDERS GET SCHOLARSHIPS—Seven of the eight college football stars named as recipients of the Earl Blaik Fellowships of $500 each for post-graduate study are greeted by Chet LaRoché (right), head of the National Football Foundation, at the Foundation's awards dinner in New York. The players are (from bottom center, clockwise) Don Newell of California, Pat Smyth of Wyoming, Maurice Dokes of Texas, Paul Choquette of Brown, Neyle Sollee of Tennessee, Philip Roos of Ohio Wesleyan and Harry Tolly of Nebraska. Ger Schwedes of Syracuse also won an award.

The most that can be said about any nation is that within its geographic confines, conditions obtained which made it possible for genius to expose itself and blossom. In the United States, since the Civil War, mechanical inventiveness and mass production developed more rapidly than in many other countries but not more rapidly than in Germany or Japan.

During much of that period, Russia remained a primitive agricultural country with a small but negligible volume of industrial productivity. Indeed, the greatest degree of Russian productivity in those remote days was in Russian Poland and the Ukraine. Warsaw, Lodz, Bialystok, Kiev, Odessa were cities of small manufactures. There were others. The largest iron works was in Petrograd but there was no modern steel plant anywhere. On the other hand, small Czechoslovakia possessed one of the greatest steel units in Europe, the Skoda Works.

It is therefore true that the Soviet rate of growth since 1917 has been swifter than ours. If they did anything at all, percentage-wise, it could be a thousand per cent improvement. When the base is zero, every move upward is rapid growth. For instance, we can, if there are no strikes, produce about 140,000,000 tons of steel a year. The probability is that we do not need to produce much more than that for our own use, no matter how prosperous we may be. In fact, other metals are being used as substitutes for steel, for instance, aluminum. This represents no loss in the national economy or in the quality of the goods produced. Soviet Russia now produces about 60,000,000 tons of steel. But Russia's

To the voters of the Logan Elm school district,

We are faced with a serious question on which you will decide the answer Tuesday.

I don't believe you voters want the Logan Elm School District to be known as the "Little Rock" of Pickaway County. I don't mean in the same sense as Little Rock, Ark., but if these levies don't pass our schools won't open next fall either.

So parents and partons, let's give the children of the Logan Elm District the same thing every other American boy and girl is entitled to—an education.

Contact Lenses Help Eyes

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Reports from California and Tokyo doctors seem to indicate that contact lenses might be of value in correcting and even at times preventing cases of crossed eyes in children.

Simply explained, crossed eyes is a slippage of eye alignment. The causes are many and range from nearsightedness to congenital cataract.

Crossed eyes presents more than a visual problem. Emotional and social problems also must be considered, not only for the youngster, but for his parents as well.

So these reports of the use of contact lenses to help solve the problems is a rather important development.

According to Dr. Tutomu Sato, chief ophthalmologist at Tokyo University, 30 Japanese infants were fitted with contact lenses. The youngsters ranged in age from eight months to ten years.

They were fitted with the lenses in an effort to correct serious vision disorders, to correct simple nearsightedness, or following the removal of cataracts.

Contacts were used because the patients were too young to wear frames or because the vision problems would not respond to correction by spectacles.

As the research neared an end, Dr. Sato noted an amazing side effect: there were no signs of crossed eyes in any of the children that were observed.

Now Dr. Sato and his associates had definitely anticipated development of such defects in more than half of the tiny patients.

The doctors launched a new study to try to determine why none of the 30 children developed crossed eyes.

Their conclusion: the wearing of contact lenses prevented it.

The doctors also reported "great benefits" when contact lenses were applied immediately after healing procedures following surgical treatment of cataracts of babies and children.

Now let's get back to the crossed eye problem.

The "Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Monthly" reported that Dr. J. Myron Middleton, of California, found contact lenses helpful in improving the sight of a three-year-old albino boy.

The youngster had been enrolled in a sight-saving school until "contact lenses helped the child attain vision comparable with other children in his age group."

In addition, the report says, the child lost traces of crossed eyes.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon is like a farmer whose planting is finished and who is sitting now on his front porch, keeping cool, saying little, and waiting for the crops to grow.

For an ambitious politician he's in an enviable position.

He is front-runner for the Republican presidential nomination and at this moment everything is working for him. His troubles—if they come—won't come until next year. So he doesn't have to do much talking or scampering around.

With President Eisenhower out of the country for almost a month, he is the top-ranking government official in the United States. He'll be the man for the politicians to see and the Eisenhower Cabinet to talk to.

Just by being here he'll stay in the public eye, which has been a pretty permanent location for him ever since 1953. If somehow, while Eisenhower is away, he can be a factor in settling the steel dispute, that's so much extra gravy.

Nixon's predecessors in the vice presidency had little to do. Eisenhower changed that. He has made more use of his vice president than any other President. That fact alone has kept Nixon in the national consciousness for almost seven years.

Nixon's assignments from Eisenhower, and the way he made use of them, could not but help him politically.

For instance: his trip to the Soviet Union, his arguments with Premier Nikita Khrushchev, his journey through Sovietland, all amply reported back home by press and television.

Then there was the bitter Latin American trip. The treatment given him—the stones and the spit, not because he was Nixon but because he was an American official and Latin Americans were sore at the United States—got him broad sympathy at home.

So far he hasn't even had to be excited about the only rival he has in sight in the Republican party—New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Up to this point Rockefeller has looked like an early bath, going in for his first swim in May, carefully, gingerly, sticking in a toe, pulling it back, testing the water to see if it's warm enough.

All through the vice presidency Nixon has acted like a good housekeeper. He has worked at keeping his political precincts tidy. In his case it has meant lining up

Republicans, particularly Republican leaders, on his side.

He seems to have them pretty well lined up, at least the Republican pros. It's a little too soon for him to judge what the rank-and-file Republicans might think if they actually had to choose between him and Rockefeller.

That's a problem Nixon won't have to face at all if Rockefeller backs out before trying for a showdown. The vice president will have to hustle if Rockefeller decides to run against him in presidential primaries.

But that can't happen until 1960. So, since he doesn't have to do any bush-beating right now, Nixon isn't.

Eisenhower Administration Eyes Vast Changes in REA

WASHINGTON (AP)—There are indications that top Eisenhower Administration officials want to make changes in the Rural Electrification Administration. This is something that affects thousands of REA power consumers in Ohio.

What the White House wants is (1) to curtail REA activities, and (2) to adjust upward the two per cent interest rate on loans to REA co-ops.

Whether the White House would attempt to get any part of this plan through Congress next year is not yet known. But there is little doubt the Administration still is interested.

As an illustration, Maurice H. Stans, director of the Bureau of the Budget, referred to REA in a recent magazine article as a depression-born institution that has been allowed to keep growing.

"The startling fact is that three out of four new users currently power systems) are non-farm users," Stans wrote. "About one-half of REA electric power goes to industries, communities or non-farm families."

"The reasonable approach is that REA co-ops should now be able to get some of their financing from other than government sources, especially for non-farm purposes that compete with taxed private industry."

Stans did not mention raising the interest. But President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson have.

Xavier Names Winners Of St. Francis Medals

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Rev. Timothy L. Bouscaren, chief attorney for the Roman Catholic Society of Jesus, and Neal Ahern, Cincinnati clothing manufacturer, have won this year's St. Francis Medal alumni awards by Xavier University here. They were presented at a breakfast Sunday.

They point out that money currently costs the government 3 1/2 to 4 per cent and that REA turns around and lends it to expanding co-ops at 2 per cent. They want the interest rate adjusted to the cost of the money to the government.

REA supporters greet any such suggestions with protests that private industry often gets special subsidies, too, and that the rate should be left alone.

On one point there can be little debate: REA, in its 24 years of existence, has been a major factor in the production of cheap electricity for Ohio farms.

When REA started in 1935, 18.8 per cent of Ohio farms were electrified. Now, 79.9 per cent of these farms have electricity. Of all Ohio farms with electricity, 41 per cent of them buy from REA co-ops.

Other statistics: Ohio's 30 rural electric systems have borrowed 85 serve 135,000 farms and other rural consumers from about 30,000 miles of line.

Ohio borrowers—and not one is overdue on payments—have paid back $19,300,000 of principal on loans plus $10,100,000 in interest.

Will there be a fight in the next session to change REA? One thing to watch is to see whether Eisenhower mentions it in his State of the Union message—to be delivered to Congress in January.

But even if he does, it is still a touchy subject that might be quietly dropped in an election year.

Planned Parenthood for Dogs?

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the farmers' wife who had over 300 dogs and cats dropped off on her property in the last 14 years interested me.

Few people realize the seriousness of the abandoned animal problem. It is estimated that over 33 million puppies and kittens are born in this country every year. Of this number, about 20 million are left to die in suffering.

So long as people allow their pets to produce puppies and kittens in greater numbers than they can feed and care for, the problem will persist. The Humane Society is trying to persuade people to have their female dogs sprayed and their male cats altered. If they would, it would solve this problem quickly. Can you help to spread the word?

DEAR MONTGOMERY: I can try, but I am not optimistic. In a world where people are producing more people than they can feed and care for, it will be no easy task to undertake a "Planned Parenthood" crusade for animals.

DEAR ABBY: I am 21 and Dick is 26. We are engaged to be married. Lately Dick has been going out of town every week-end with his bachelor friends. They either take along some girls (not nice ones) or meet them there.

I could forgive him if this happened only once, but it has been happening regularly every week-end. Dick says he wants to "live a little" before settling down to married life. Do I have a right to complain, or haven't I?

ENGAGED WITH A RING
DEAR ENGAGED: This kind of "living" has been the death of many engagements. The only woman who is more miserable than the "sweetheart" of a caving-in suitor is the wife of a caving-in husband. A word to the wise . . .

DEAR ABBY: I am going to write this fast and mail it before I lose my nerve. I have written to you several times but I always tore up the letters.

I have been married seven years and my problem is my husband. He likes to wear women's clothing. I didn't know this until I found some of my things missing. When I caught him red-handed he admitted that he had taken some of my clothes and had worn them.

Abby, I am almost crazy with worry. I think this is against the law and I'm afraid he will get arrested. If they find out about him at work he will lose his job. The children and I need him. Can you please tell me what to do?

UNSIGN
DEAR UNSIGNED: Your husband is sick. It doesn't matter how you do it, but get him to a doctor. He needs professional help.

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

'Buy American' Campaign Is Waged Abroad

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — While President Eisenhower is busy selling America overseas other U.S. officials are busy preaching buy American to recipients of our bounty.

They don't propose much change in the total of our foreign aid. But they hold that those who get it should use these dollars to buy American products rather than those of our competitors.

Buy American is part of a drive to end the American trade deficit that has drained away part of our gold reserves and built up large foreign investments in U. S. securities that could be used to drain away still more gold.

The buy American policy is controversial.

Opponents charge it aims at curbs on freely moving world trade at a time when we are urging other nations to lower their import quotas and tariff barriers against American goods.

They contend that the nations who receive our aid should shop where they can get the best value — and that high prices of American products are our real export problems.

Advocates of buy American if you get American hand-outs point out that the policy is only one part of the drive to relieve the United States of carrying the major part of the burden of reviving the stricken or modernizing the underdeveloped.

The billions of dollars that the United States poured out since World War II has helped Western Europe to great industrial prosperity. Along with Japan it has become a serious competitor of American industry in world markets. As the underdeveloped nations become industrialized with our help, they, too, will compete in markets we once considered ours alone.

Douglas Dillon U.S. undersecretary of state, is in London for talks with British officials on trade matters. The specific problem is the threat that two great trade combines are being set up in Western Europe and that they may further weaken America's trading position.

The dollars and cents problem is simply that we have continued to import in large volume. But while we were spending our dollars for these goods, and spending more billions in military and economic aid and still more for establishments overseas and in travel by American tourists, our exports have declined. The dollar outgo became more than the dollar income. Hence the loss of gold.

The drain of gold, most agree, hasn't seriously endangered our reserves — so far. In fact, most contend that the redistribution of the gold hoards in the world has been healthy.

FARM BUREAU OFFICIALS — Here are four members of the Pickaway County Farm Bureau pictured attending a leadership conference in Columbus last week. From the left they are Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, Chester Noecker and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunkel. Approximately 300 farmers from all sections of Ohio attended the session.

Local Farm Bureau Officials Attend Leadership Meeting

County farmers were back home today with some added methods of better carrying out Pickaway County's Farm Bureau program in 1960 after spending two days in a leadership conference in Columbus last week.

DISAGREES WITH IKE—Taking up the birth control question in his Detroit office, the Rev. R. Norris Wilson, executive director of the Church World Service, says it would be a "disgrace" if the U. S. refused birth control help to overpopulated nations. President Eisenhower has said such nations should apply to private organizations, not to governments. The CWS is the worldwide food distribution and relief arm of the National Council of Churches.

Politt said five farmers from this area attended the meetings with him. They were Chester Noecker representing President Turney Glick, Legislative Representative Lawrence Reid, Women's Committee Chairman Mrs. J. B. Stevenson and Young People's Chairman Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunkel.

"In addition to having the opportunity to compare notes with local farm leaders from every part of Ohio, the group heard top speakers discuss leadership and agriculture", Politt said.

Some of the highlights were T. C. Peterson, American Farm Bureau Federation, who spoke on "Is Your Moose Call in Tune," and Dr. Floyd Faust, Minister of the Broad St., Christian Church in Columbus.

NEARLY 300 farmers attended the sessions, Politt said.

More than a dozen Advisory Council committees were honored at the Leadership Conference with an award for organizing three or more new Farm Bureau advisory councils in 1959.

Here Are Yule Kitchen Tips

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

At this time of year come queries from cooks who are planning gifts for other kitchen devotees. Which new cook book is suitable for a friend? If there are epicures on your holiday list, you may wish to consider these two nominations.

"The Classic French Cuisine" by Joseph Donon (Knopf) — for almost 40 years the author was America's most famous and reportedly highest-paid chef to a private family. Since his retirement M. Donon has given much of his time to helping along the training of young professional cooks; the same zeal with which he aids them has gone into the working out of his book. There are enough simple recipes in "The Classic French Cuisine" to encourage novice cooks and plenty more to keep accomplished chefs happy. Covered in gold cloth and handsomely printed, this book is an authoritative and pleasant guide.

"Classic Cooking" by John Marshall (Duell, Sloan and Pearce) is subtitled "A New Approach to French Cuisine." It was written at the request of his daughter, on the occasion of her marriage, by a man whose hobby is cooking. Its menus and recipes were tested for a privately issued version of this book and again when the present edition was being prepared. Beginning chapters on such important subjects as shopping, seasoning, menu-making and serving are interestingly knowledgeable. Menus number 30 and exact directions for preparing them are given; most of these are for dinner for two, but some are for luncheon and supper, and a buffet for 10 to 15 is also included. Short chapters on hors d'oeuvre, soups, sauces, special dishes, salads, aspics and desserts make good reading and should result in fine cooking.

BRIOCHE

(From "The Classic French Cuisine" by Joseph Donon)

Ingredients: 4 cake or envelope yeast, 4 cup warm water, 3 cups flour, 1 tablespoon powdered sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup sweet butter, 4 eggs.

Method: Dissolve the yeast in the warm water and mix it with 1/2 cup of the flour. Knead the dough well and put it in a bowl two-thirds full of warm water to rise. Sift the remaining flour in a mound on a pastry board and make a well in the center. Add the sugar, salt, and the eggs, lightly beaten, and knead thoroughly to make a smooth dough. When the sponge rises to the surface of the warm water, work it into the dough. Soften the butter by kneading it with the hands, and work it into the dough. Put the dough in a bowl, sprinkle it lightly with flour, and set it in a moderately warm place to rise until it is double in bulk, from 2 to 3 hours. Punch the dough down and chill it overnight. Cut off one-fourth of the dough and form it into a ball. Shape the rest into a large ball and put it in a buttered, bowl-shaped brioche mold. Cut a cross in the top of the large ball and insert the small ball in it to make the head, or crown of the brioche. Let the brioche rise in a warm place until it doubles in bulk. Brush with lightly beaten egg yolk and bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees) for an hour, until the brioche is browned and tests done. Individual brioches may be made, if preferred, and baked for about 20 minutes.

same time coming in the winter at the North Pole. If you can believe these folk it is all because of Santa Claus and Oonik, the Eskimo boy, and the way the two of them long ago tamed the Ice King of the North.

Here is the story they tell:

Once upon a time, in a far away Northern land, there lived a little Eskimo boy named Oonik. He lived with his family in an igloo on the edge of the Arctic Sea.

Nearby there were eight other igloos where other families lived. Together they formed an Eskimo village.

The Eskimos were hunters. In the winter they hunted seal and walrus and polar bear. In the summer, when their snow houses melted and grass covered the land they hunted reindeer and rabbit and birds.

One year it seemed that the winter was colder than anyone could ever remember. The icy winds blew all the time and the snow drifted high over the village. Sometimes, when Oonik and his father returned home from hunting they had trouble finding the floor to their own home because it was buried in new-fallen snow.

And sometimes the cold was so intense that all the villagers stayed in their snow houses for weeks at a time.

The worst part of it was that the hunting was poor for even the seal and the polar bear did not wish to come out in such weather. So food ran low in the village and Oonik was often lucky to have even one hunk of frozen seal blubber as his only meal of the day.

One day as the family sat together in the igloo Oonik's father said, "The days are beginning to be longer than the nights and the Spring Moon shines in the sky. That means winter is over and soon the ice will melt, birds will fly and flowers will grow."

"And we will trail reindeer in the hills!" cried Oonik rolling over and throwing his arms around his dog Keotuk.

"I can hardly wait," said his sister Popik. "Oh, it will be good to live in our summer tents and hunt for bird eggs in the grass!"

"And we will be warm again!" cried their mother. "Oh, I will be glad when this miserable winter is gone!"

But weeks went by and May came and June and even July passed by and still the icy winds blew and the snow piled higher

Circleville Coed Winner Of Voice Test

Miss Donna Mitchell, a senior at the College of Wooster, has been selected as winner of the district competition of the "Singer of the Year" contest of the National Association of Teachers of Singing. Announcement of her successful competition was made by Dr. F. E. Ohl, of Heidelberg College, Tiffin, Ohio, chairman of the district contest.

Miss Mitchell, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. D. E. Mitchell, is majoring in music at the College of Wooster, where she is a student of voice of Eve Roine Richmond.

Her next competition will be the central regional contest, for singers from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Missouri and Ohio, to be held at the Netherlands - Hilton Hotel in Cincinnati, December 27. The winner of the regional contest will go to the finals December 29, also in Cincinnati, where the Singer of the Year will be chosen.

To qualify for entrance in the contest, Miss Richmond pointed out, a student must meet exacting requirements. These include specified operatic and oratoria arias in an hour-long program consisting of a group of early Italian and classic songs, French, German and English compositions. To win recognition in this contest is the highest competitive award given in singing in this country, she noted.

Hub Cap, Light Taken

Densell Arledge, 210 S. Pickaway St., told local police Saturday that a hub cap and dome light were taken from his car.

and even the hunters' sleds froze to the ice and it was a job to move them at all.

Then the Eskimos were truly frightened. They went to the igloo of Miski, the wise man of the village.

"What has happened?" they cried. "Why has summer not come?"

Old Miski sucked in his ancient cheeks and stared at the ground. Then he said, "The Ice King of the North is very angry. To placate him we must have a festival in his honor. Then the icy winds will stop and summer will come to Eskimo land."

Tiger Rally Fails; Athens Moves to 54-51 Cage Win

Despite a fine comeback in the second quarter, Circleville's cage Tigers suffered a heartbreaking 54-51 defeat to the invading Bulldogs of Athens Saturday night.

The battling Tigers trailed 18-9 at the end of the first quarter, but suddenly found themselves in the second canto to take a 27-26 lead at halftime.

Staying in contention all the way, the veteran Bulldog cagers reversed the situation in the third period to command a 42-41 lead as the quarter ended.

Making few mistakes in the final chapter, the Bulldogs hung on with grim determination to fight off a last minute onslaught by the Tigers. CHS hopes faded when Center Larry Hannahs committed his fifth personal with about 20 seconds remaining.

A HECTIC third quarter saw the lead trade hands six times in a basket-for-basket thriller. The Bulldogs forged ahead early in the fourth quarter and remained there. Lanky Bob Shadley spurred the Tigers in a thrilling comeback in the second quarter and hit for six straight points in the third period to keep the Tigers in the running. He ended the night with 19 points, high for both teams.

Hannahs, slowed with three personal during the dramatic third and fourth episodes, contributed 11 points on five buckets and one foul shot. Shadley's production was the result of eight goals and three charity throws.

Russ Wickerham, Athens' 6-1 veteran forward, sparked the visitors with 16 points, six of them coming at the foul line. Steve Chase, 6-4 center, dumped in 14. Dick Blosser, hitting from the side with deadly consistency, aided with 10 markers.

CHS jumped to an early 2-0 lead when Shadley hit on a drive. Wickerham retaliated with a foul shot and Larry Riggs potted a jump toss to put Athens ahead.

Linden Gibson then striped a long one for the Tigers, but the lead soon disappeared as Wickerham drove in for a bucket. The visitors then surged to an 18-9 margin as the quarter ended.

This counterattack gained momentum as Shadley, Hannahs, and Dave Hicks started to hit in rapid succession to give the locals a 27-26 advantage as the first half ended.

Shadley closed the cap to 26-25 on two free throws, then sent the Tigers into a 27-26 lead on a jump shot with only a few seconds re-

Broncos Lead Two Leagues, Top WJ Unit

Ashville stands in first place in two central Ohio leagues today on the basis of its shellacking of host West Jefferson Saturday night, 93-52.

The Jefferson win placed the Broncos in first place in the Darby Valley League and their 88-50 win over Monroe put them into a five-way tie for the Pickaway County lead.

The Broncos' Bobby Hoover continued his torrid scoring pace with 32 points Saturday, sitting out most of the second half. He had 23 markers at the end of the first half which saw Ashville hold a 50-25 margin.

Tommy Rathburn followed Hoover with 17 points, having 15 at halftime. The rough and tumble contest saw Ashville charged with 14 personal fouls to West Jefferson's 27.

BOTH GARY Gaines and Dale Fout received sprained ankles, but coach Russell Gregg said they will be ready for Friday's clash with Salt Creek.

West Jefferson known for its rugged play, was in rare form Saturday. While the Broncos averaged a football trouncing earlier this year, the Madison County youths were being outscored, 43-27, by Ashville's second and third strings in the final two periods.

Parsons led WJ with 22 points, mostly from the outside, followed by Lilly's 16. This was Ashville's fourth straight victory against no defeats.

The Bronco reserve unit managed its third win against a single loss by downing WJ, 45-33.

Sanders Pockets Coral Gables Purse

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Doug Sanders of Miami Beach won the $25000 Coral Gables open tournament with a four-round total of 273 over the 6,563-yard par 71 Biltmore layout. The previous record was 281, set by Hrtm Smith in 1935.

Sanders achieved his total with rounds of 68, 71, 69 and 65, and it was his final 65 which brought him first money of $2,880.

He started the final day one stroke back of Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa. Finsterwald shot a 2-under-par 69 Sunday, good enough for a 276 total and second place, but Palmer took a 72 and wound up in a triple tie for third with 279. Julius Boros of Mid Pines N.C., and Johnny Pott of Shreveport, La., also were in the 279 bracket.

maintaining until the half.

In the third quarter Shadley hit three straight jump short, but Blosser, Riggs and Wickerham also were connecting for Athens to keep the Tigers in check.

Circleville enjoyed its fast lead late in the third stanza when Hannahs netted one from underneath to give the locals a 41-40 margin. Four bonus tosses by Athens' Ronnie Begg allowed the Bulldogs to go ahead, 44-41.

With the fourth quarter reaching the halfway mark, Hicks zipped a long one-hander to cut Athens' lead to 46-45. The Bulldogs then notched five straight points to dim local hopes.

Hicks, trying desperately to narrow the enemy lead, drove one in on a neat layup to chop the count to 51-48. Wickerham dropped one from the side and Blosser hit one of two at the foul line to keep the visitors ahead.

The best Circleville could do in the closing seconds was a foul toss by Bailey and a two-pointer from under by Hannahs.

Circleville outscored the Bulldogs from the field, 22-20, but the opponents dropped in 14 of 21 foul tosses while the Tigers made seven of 17.

Closeness of the game was indicated by the shooting averages of both teams. Circleville made good on 22 of 60 attempts for 36.6 per cent. Athens hit 20 of 51 tries for 39.2 per cent.

Bailey sparked on defense as he repeatedly pilfered the ball. He scored seven points on two baskets and three foul shots.

Hicks came on early in the game to stand out as a ballhandler and playmaker. He tallied six points, making good on all three of his field goal attempts.

Athens made it a double sweep by taking the reserve contest, 46-23. The young Bulldogs bounced to a 11-5 lead in the first quarter and remained ahead at the half, 23-10.

The CHS Kittens had difficulty finding the range, although they worked themselves free for shots.

Freddie Moore paced the Kittens with seven points, followed by Dick Kline's five. Gary Wickham was high for the winners with 16.

Coach Dick Snouffer said his cagers need more work on offensive patterns. He said this point will be stressed until Friday when the Tigers journey to Washington C.H. for their second South Central Ohio League encounter. They downed Franklin Heights Friday in their first loop test.

Giants Clobber Browns To Win Conference Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A shrewd Mississippian, his good-looking sidekick and a 230-pound one-man wrecking crew comprise the key trio for the New York Giants, Eastern Conference champions in the National Football League for the second consecutive year.

The clever Mississippian is quarterback Charlie Conerly, who revitalized a non-existent Giant attack with his pin-point passing and first-rate signal calling in the last three games en route to the Eastern crown.

The final measure of Conerly's success—after returning from an ankle injury that sidelined him while the Giants floundered—came Sunday when he passed for three touchdowns and engineered a 48-7 rout of the Cleveland Browns to wrap up the title.

The good-looker is halfback Frank Gifford, Hollywood - bound with a movie contract when he leaves pro football. Gifford, the main cog in New York's ground game, poured it on against the Browns. He scored twice and packing away 175 yards running and pass receiving.

The wrecker is middle linebacker Sam Huff. His job was to stop Jimmy Brown. Huff handed Cleveland's league-leading ground gainer so effectively he gained only 50 yards in 15 tries. Brown has been averaging over a 100 a game.

While the Giants won in the East and started looking toward a replay of last year's championship game with Baltimore, the defending champion Colts clinched a tie for the crown in the Western Division.

Led by quarterback Johnny Unitas, who set an NFL record for most TD passes in one season, the Colts won their showdown battle for first place with San Francisco as they defeated the 49ers 34-14 in a Saturday game.

The Colts lead the 49ers and Chicago Bears by one game with one left to play. The Bears moved into a tie for the runner-up spot Sunday by beating Pittsburgh 27-21 for their sixth straight win.

In other games Sunday, Philadelphia took over second place in the East with a 34-14 thumping of Washington. Detroit clobbered Chicago's Cardinals 45-21 and Green Bay defeated Los Angeles 38-20.

Bud Kennedy is in his 12th season as basketball coach at Florida State.

CARROSS switched to a 3-2 defense after the first stanza and used a man-to-man later in the game. It was Walnut's second win against one defeat.

Carroll's reserve team had no mercy on the Tiger junior varsity, running up a 77-18 score. Creighton tallied 27 points for Carroll. Walnut's high man was Giese with 10. This was the reserve unit's third straight loss.

Scioto Loses 60-40 Test to Bishop Hartley

Scioto, faced with its problem of inexperience, dropped a 60-40 cage test at Bishop Hartley High in Columbus Saturday night.

It marked the third loss in three starts for Coach Joe Corbett's squad, one less than the total number of defeats suffered last season. The Buffaloes currently are working on a rebuilding program.

Bishop Hartley raced to a 15-7 lead in the first quarter, but the Buffaloes rebounded to cut the margin to 23-17 at halftime.

The hosts iced the game in the third stanza by scoring 19 points while the best Scioto could do was nine.

BILL Hoover, hitting on his favorite push shot from the side, paced Scioto with 17 points. Bob Whiteside came through with seven.

Bishop Hartley was sparked by R. Matlock's 21 tallies, most of them coming from close in. Warren added 10.

The hosts made a clean sweep by taking the reserve contest, 24-20.

Scioto's next game is slated Friday in a home test with William-sport.

Tiger Wrestlers Drop Close Test

Circleville High School's aggressive wrestling team dropped a narrow 24-19 decision to Dayton Fairmont here Saturday.

A stroke of bad luck for Coach John Current's grapplers handed the match to Fairmont. Tim Morgan, the Tigers' choice in the 103-pound class, was declared one pound overweight and the visitors gained five points by forfeit.

The Tigers lost one bout in the last few seconds after leading on points. The eight-point difference would have meant a match victory for Circleville.

Each bout provided a thrill-a-second as matmen from both teams churned and scrambled to subdue their opponents. A large crowd of enthusiastic fans were on hand.

DAVE Troutman put CHS into a quick lead by pinning Yoshimura of Fairmont in the 112-pound class. Scrappy Bob Owens had his opponent all the way, but lost the bout in the last few seconds on a pin.

Heavyweight Rupert Rudd gave the Tigers a strong finish when he swarmed over his opponent for a pin only seconds after his bout started. The blockbusting Tiger had little trouble after forcing his adversary to the canvas.

Gaining three points each on decisions were Tigers Chuck McDowell, Phil Wing, and Danny Leonard. McDowell battled in the 133-pound class, Wing in the 154 division and Leonard in the 165 category.

The match was closely contested all the way with most of the bouts going the full time limit. Fairmont was rated one of the best in its district last season.

Coach Current said he was pleased with his team's performance, noting that his squad should show progress as the season progresses.

The next match is scheduled Friday with a trip to Groveport. The first bout starts at 4 p. m. The following Thursday Grove City comes here for a match which starts at 8 p. m.

Here are Saturday's results:

103-pound class — Zell (F) over Morgan (C) on forfeit, five points; 112-pound class — Troutman (C) pinned Yoshimura (F), five points.

120-pound class — Davis (F) pinned Owens (C), five points; 127-pound class — Schick (F) decided Lindsey (C), three points.

133-pound class — McDowell (C) decided Bulgaria (F), three points; 138-pound class — Foster (F) pinned Moats (C), five points.

145-pound class — Dubro (F) decided Warner (C), three points; 154-pound class — Wing (C) decided Leonard (F), three points.

165-pound class — Doll (F) decided Huff (C), three points; 175-pound class — Leonard (C) decided Adams (F), three points.

Heavyweight — Rudd (C) pinned Hoel (F) five points.

Sulky Race Bets Hit All-Time High

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An all-time high of $793,815,975 went through the parimutuel machines at the nation's harness racing tracks during the 1959 season.

The total handle, announced today by the U. S. Trotting Assn. from a report by USTA president Walter J. Michael to the 40-member board of directors, is more than 80 million dollars above the 1958 mark of $712,872,993.

Total attendance also rose considerably. Crowds in 1959 totaled 14,128,702 compared to 12,769,494 for the previous year, USTA records showed.

College Cage Powers Fccc Critical Test at Early Date

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
One week doesn't make a season, but two might — particularly the next two for the likes of St. Louis, West Virginia, Ohio State, North Carolina and Indiana in major college basketball.

The season, just a week old, finds suspected powers Kentucky, Kansas State, North Carolina State and Louisville already beaten. Now all four put the test to the rest.

St. Louis, unbeaten in three games that included road decisions over St. John's (NY) and K-State, has the toughest job in the next two weeks, even though two of the four games in that span will be played on the Billikens' home court. North Carolina (1-0) doesn't figure to have things easy either.

The Bills, beating K-State 67-58 last Saturday for the Wildcats' first home defeat since 1957, play Ohio State Wednesday and Kentucky Saturday at St. Louis. Next week they jump into the University of Kentucky Invitation Tournament against so far unbeaten West Virginia plus North Carolina and host Kentucky.

Before North Carolina, which opened with a 93-56 Atlantic Coast Conference victory over South Carolina last Saturday, gets to the tournament at Lexington, Ky., the Tar Heels join NC State in a Friday-Saturday doubleheader duel with Kansas and Kansas State at Raleigh.

North Carolina plays Kansas Friday while NC State, surprised by Wake Forest 73-59, plays K-State. The two Carolina schools then swap foes on Saturday.

Kansas, which opened with a 76-67 victory at home against Texas Saturday, is at home against Texas at Tech (1-1) tonight in a heavy schedule that pairs unbeaten in.

Butler-Ohio State, Indiana-Missouri, Houston-Texas A & M and New Mexico State-Utah.

California, the NCAA champion, breezed as expected against the school's Santa Barbara branch, 59-47, last Friday and goes against San Francisco (0-2) Tuesday night. West Virginia (4-0), the NCAA runner-up, plays Richmond in a Southern Conference game Tuesday.

Southern California, after dropping two games by a total of five points to UCLA and Santa Clara, knocked off Kentucky 87-73 Saturday.

Georgia Tech (3-0) spilled Louisville 68-56. The Cardinals now play Furman again tonight, Eastern Kentucky (Thursday) and Davidson (Saturday) before meeting Cincinnati next week.

Cincinnati, 2-0 after whipping Marshall 102-61 Saturday as Oscar Robertson, again playing only part time, scored 43 points, plays Miami (Ohio) tonight. West Virginia's Jerry West, paired with Robertson as the only returning All-Americans this season, scored 18 points in 27 minutes as the Mountaineers wallowed Furman 96-63 for their 52nd consecutive Southern Conference success.

As for tonight's unbeaten foes, Ohio State (3-0) beat Pitt 94-49 Saturday while Butler (3-0) defeated little Wabash 62-55. Indiana (1-0), picked to top the Big Ten, handled Ball State with expected ease, 103-63, and Missouri (2-0) snuffed Arkansas a possible Southwest Conference threat, 75-51, in a Friday game.

Houston (3-0) defeated McMurray 92-51 while Texas A & M (2-0) beat Trinity (Tex.) 86-46. New Mexico State handed San Francisco a 72-63 setback and Utah opened with a 104-80 job on Los Angeles State.

Ohio Gun Season for Deer Slated To Open Thursday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's three-day gun season for deer—the 14th in modern times—opens at 9 a. m. Thursday, and there are some rules the first-time deer hunter should know.

The season ends at 5 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 12, and hunters will be permitted to take one deer of any age or sex.

But hunters are restricted to shotguns loaded with rifled slugs or pumpkin balls. Rifles are not permitted.

The archery season for deer, which opened Oct. 15, runs through Dec. 31. Last year, fewer than 43,000 deer hunters bagged 4,413 deer in a four-day hunting season. Normally, only one deer hunter in 10 is successful in getting a deer.

The deer herd is statewide in distribution with most of them in the wooded eastern half of the state. Each year the distribution becomes more widespread. In 1957 deer were reported killed in 63 counties; last year they were taken in 72 counties.

Eugene Knoder, forest game biologist of the Division of Wildlife, reports the deer population may be slightly lower than last year.

An Ohio pheasant season that turned out better than predicted ends at 5 p. m. next Wednesday. The quail and Hungarian partridge season closes at the same time.

Hayden Olds, wildlife chief, reported that pheasant hunting, while not equal to the best years, was better than expected by the division officials and sportsmen. Success on Hungarian partridges was poor, as these birds are scarce.

Six Hamilton County fish and game clubs purchased 110 cock pheasants for release on public hunting areas in a program started by Dale Roach, Hamilton County game protector. The Division of Wildlife said it marked one of the first examples of cooperative effort in using private conservation clubs funds to stock public hunting lands. The pheasants were released a few days after opening of the season at Stonelick Lake State Park in Clermont County, and Miamitown public hunting area in Hamilton County.

An experiment in muskie production at the Wildlife Division's Kincaid Springs Hatchery has ended successfully. John Walker, fish management supervisor of District 6, reported that more than 5,000 inch-long muskies were obtained from the hatchery in May. These little muskies were reared in three hatchery ponds.

In early November, the ponds were drained and 196 muskies ranging from seven to 16 inches in length were recovered and stocked in 700-acre Cowan Lake in Clinton County.

Walker termed this survival and growth rate successful and said the experimental program will be continued whenever muskie fry are available.

AL Chiefs Expected To Extend Study

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—An American League committee was to report on expansion plans today with strong indications it would recommend continued study.

While the major league officially opened their winter meetings, President Branch Rickey of the five-team Continental League, the proposed third major, was due to confer with his owners at the same hotel.

Rickey had called a meeting for Tuesday morning but is expected to huddle on an informal basis tonight with representatives of the five founding cities.

Bob Howsam of Denver and Jack Kent Cooke of Toronto already are on the scene and others are expected.

The Continental plans to issue a statement after the American League makes known its position on expansion.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick also has said he will have a statement. He has urged the American to take a definite stand on expansion. The league indicated in October it was considering expansion, possibly in 1961.

Liston Favored Over Besmanoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sonny Liston, who would like a crack at heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson and has the credentials to make the challenge, is a 5-1 favorite to score his 19th straight victory Wednesday night.

The third-ranking contender from Philadelphia takes on willing Willi (call me Billy) Besmanoff of Milwaukee in a television (ABC 10 p. m., Eastern Standard Time) 10-rounder at the Cleveland Arena.

Liston, 27, has a 25-1 record, including 16 knockouts. His winning streak of 18 dates back more than five years when he was outpointed by Marty Marshall in an eight-rounder. Sonny avenged that lone loss by whipping Marshall twice, once on a kayo.

OSU Cagers Now Aim for 4th Straight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio State's Buckeyes, as hot as they are busy, aim for their fourth straight victory within a week when they take on Butler tonight.

Ohio State romped past Pitt 94-49 Saturday night for the Buckeyes' third triumph in five days. Once again sophomores Jerry Lucas and Mel Nowell contributed strongly.

Lucas, the 6-8 sensation, scored 24 points while Nowell came through with 20. Indiana, the team picked to win the Big Ten title, made its debut with a 103-63 romp over Ball State. Purdue, Iowa and Michigan State all turned in victories Saturday to remain undefeated.

Minnesota scored its initial triumph following a season-opening loss by clobbering Vanderbilt 72-59 but Northwestern, Michigan and Wisconsin lost.

Purdue defeated Penn State 63-54, Iowa trounced Southern Methodist 89-58, Michigan State edged Notre Dame 61-56 in overtime, Northwestern lost to Kansas 76-67, Wisconsin was dumped by Iowa State 71-53 and Michigan bowed to Drake 71-65.

Big Ten teams did well in their first week against outside competition. In 19 games, they recorded 13 victories.

Michigan and Wisconsin are 0-2 with Minnesota and Northwestern at 1-1 while the other six teams all are undefeated.

Tv Cobb Is Getting Checkup in Hospital

ATLANTA (AP)—Ty Cobb, one of the all-time greats of baseball, was reported in good condition and resting comfortably today at Atlanta's Emory Hospital.

He was admitted Sunday night for what his doctor described as a routine checkup. The former big league baseball star will be 73 on Dec. 18.

Most of Killers, Victims Found To Have Cop Records

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Who are the killers, and who are the people they kill?

Some answers are provided by Dr. Marvin E. Wolfgang, a University of Pennsylvania sociologist who has just completed an exhaustive study of every criminal homicide in Philadelphia from 1948 through 1952-58 in all.

Dr. Wolfgang sought to find out when and where the killings took place, the weapons used, the motives involved and the relationship between killer and victim.

From his study, he concludes: "Homicide is the apex crime, a crescendo built upon previous assault crimes."

The Wolfgang study shows 64 per cent of the killers had previous police records. Of those with police record, 73 per cent had been arrested for aggravated assault and battery.

Those killed were not much different than the killers themselves, Wolfgang found. Of the 588 victims, 277, or 57 per cent, also had police records. Of these, Wolfgang asserts, fully 26 per cent brought on their own slayings in some way. Alcohol frequently was a factor.

Wolfgang, 35, a native of Mil-lburg, Pa., began his study with the files of the homicide squad.

"The most striking feature in the comparison of race and sex distributions in criminal homicide is the extent to which Negroes exceed whites. Of the 588 victims, 73 per cent are Negro; of the 621 offenders, 75 per cent are Negro," Wolfgang noted.

In 1950, the midpoint of the study, 18 per cent of Philadelphia's population was Negro.

Men greatly outnumber women as killers and victims, the study showed. Of victims, 73 per cent are males and of the killers, 82 per cent.

Wolfgang said 39 per cent of the killings were caused by stabbing; 33 per cent by shooting; 22 per cent by beatings, and 6 per cent in other ways.

Women, he found, were more apt to kill by stabbing and to be killed by beatings.

The most dangerous day for homicides was Saturday, and the most dangerous hours from 8 p.m. to 2 a.m., the study showed. In 64 per cent of the cases, one or both of those involved had been drinking, and far more often it was both.

TYRONE'S WIDOW IN A RE-RUN—Arthur Loew, Jr., 33, scion of the Loew's, Inc., people, and Deborah Jean Power, 27, widow of Tyrone Power, look fondly at each other after their marriage in Las Vegas, Nev. It's his first, her third.

Dupont May Build Another Film Plant in Circleville

The Dupont Company is studying the possibility of constructing a plant here for the commercial manufacture of "Teflon", polyvinyl fluoride film, it was announced today by R. E. Heckert, manager of the local Dupont plant.

The local plant makes "Mylar", a polyester film.

Final decision must await completion of engineering studies at the Circleville plant as well as further assessment of the potential markets and other economic factors, Heckert said.

"Teflon", a new product of Dupont research, is now being manufactured in small quantity at a pilot plant in Buffalo, N. Y.

The film has outstanding weatherability, toughness and chemical stability.

THE FILM IS expected to be used outdoors as a decorative and protective surface for wood, metal and composition building materials and as a glazing material.

It also is expected to be used in the electrical and packaging fields.

The new plant, if constructed here, probably would be located on Dupont property adjacent to the present plant. No information is available at the present time on the size of the contemplated plant, or on the number of employees, Heckert explained.

Mighty Gale Whips Britain

14 Men Drowned As Ships Sink

LONDON (AP) — Fourteen men may have drowned in the shattered wrecks of two small vessels which sank in a mighty gale raging round the coast of Britain today.

Numerous other craft were in trouble in the storm.

Further south, off the East Anglian coast, a Liberian freighter, struggled against gales sweeping it toward the jagged shore.

Even the mightiest liners struggled against the fury of the storm that swept far out across the Atlantic.

The Queen Elizabeth radioed after a day and night battering that it would not reach Cherbourg until Tuesday morning, 12 hours late.

The liner plowed through the center of the storm's 125-mile winds that churned up waves 80 feet high. Inch-thick portholes in first-class cabins 40 feet above the water line were reported to have been smashed by the waves. Five cabins were flooded.

No passengers were hurt.

Ashore, the storm brought floods. Many roads were impassable and dozens of houses in exposed coastal towns were damaged.

All of south Sweden and the southern Baltic were in the grip of one of the worst blizzards in living memory. As the storm whipped the area for the third day in a row, the death toll rose to five.

The heavy snow also was blanketing Norway, blocking roads and rail lines. High winds continued to endanger shipping along the rugged Norwegian coast. A Danish and a Swedish fishing vessel were in distress.

In central Norway, emergency crews worked to clear ice that stopped a hydroelectric plant and plunged the homes of 30,000 people in the Helgeland area into darkness.

Ex-Jap Envoy Says Dec. 7 Stab 'Risky'

TOKYO (AP) — The attack on Pearl Harbor 18 years ago today was "a risky enterprise" that if detected earlier might have cost Japan half its fleet, says Kichisaburo Nomura, Japanese ambassador to Washington at the time.

The former admiral and diplomat in an interview called Japan's axis membership and attack on American great blunders. He said they were "forced on our responsible people by young, audacious elements."

Nomura likened these elements — rightists and military extremists — of the prewar period to present-day left-wing radicals now agitating for Japan to scrap its U.S. alliance.

Only 10 days ago about 700 persons were injured in a clash between police and youthful demonstrators against revision of the U.S.-Japan alliance.

Now 82, Nomura is healthy and active as a conservative member of Parliament and president of a phonograph firm.

"Those who wanted us to get on Hitler's and Mussolini's bus made a mistake," Nomura declared. "Now, others say Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung are moving along. But I feel there is only one road for us (the West). Japan should not repeat its mistakes."

Nomura once again denied that he had advance knowledge of the Pearl Harbor attack.

Police Arrest 2 Men, Juvenile On Bike Theft

Two Columbus men and an 11-year-old local youth were arrested here Saturday on a charge of stealing a motorbike owned by Richard Miller, 337 1/2 E. Corwin St.

Being held here are Larry Adkins, 21, and Larry Callihan, 18. Police today said the motorbike was taken Friday night.

The men and the juvenile were picked up following an unusual chain of events. Police St. Robert Temple spotted the motor and front wheel of the bike when he by chance checked the men's car. Friday night while it was at a local service station. The sergeant was unaware at the time that the motorbike had been stolen.

Sgt. Temple later learned that a motorbike was missing. He remembered the license number of the suspicious car and a trace of the plates led to Adkins and Callihan.

SGT. TURNEY Ross and Temple said questioning of the two men disclosed that they had disassembled the motorbike, kept the motor and front wheel and disposed of the rest of the vehicle at Dorney Road south of Circleville.

Sgt. Ross said Adkins and Callihan apparently became frightened after Sgt. Temple checked their car. The officer said the men sped back to the Dorney Road area and dumped out the motor and the wheel.

The complicated theft became more tangled yesterday when a police went to Dorney Road to recover the motor and the front wheel. The bike equipment was gone.

At least one hunter seeking game in the area Saturday said he noticed the motor at the six where Adkins and Callihan said they left it.

Sgt. Ross said Adkins and Callihan probably will be cited into Municipal Court today. The youth will be referred to juvenile authorities.

20 Slaughtered On Ohio Roads Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An automobile crash that took four lives, on slippery Ohio 77 south of Zanesville Sunday, was the low spot on another death-dealing weekend of traffic on Ohio's highways and streets.

At least 20 traffic deaths were recorded in the 54-hour period, 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday, tabulated by The Associated Press. One miscellaneous casualty lifted the total accidental death count to 21. The latter was a case of a baby suffocating in his crib.

The snow flurries and rain that marked the weekend may have been a large factor in approximately doubling the toll over the last 54 hours of the previous (Thanksgiving) weekend. The total gave further evidence that "normal" weekends are every bit as hazardous as holiday weekends.

The fatalities:

Friday Night
Robert Kessinger, 18, of Lynchburg, in an auto collision at the junction of U.S. 50 and Ohio 251 near Georgetown.

Saturday
Willie Stone, 41, of Frazeyburg, when his car collided with a coal truck on a curve on Ohio 13, about four miles north of Newark.
Gilbert DeZorn Jr., 16, of Cincinnati, thrown out of an auto when it hit a utility pole in Cincinnati.

Charles R. Thompson, 65, of Scio (Harrison County) when his auto crashed on U.S. 22 near Hopedale in Harrison County.

Carl Atherton Jr., 32, of near Utica, in an auto crash on Ohio 13 south of Utica.

Addison Brewer, 38, of Middletown, when the car in which he was riding collided with another on Ohio 73 north of Middletown.

Mrs. Essie Mullen, 37, of Warren County, when her car skidded off a Cincinnati street and hit a tree.

Brazilian Troops Seek Trio of Fleeing Rebels

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Government troops pushed through jungles of northern Brazil today in an attempt to cut off three leaders of last week's abortive revolt.

The trio took to the jungle after a light plane they seized ran out of gas, forcing them to land in the southern part of the state of Para.

CHAPTER ONE
A LONG WINTER

In northern lands near the top of the world Christmas comes in the wintertime.

In Southern lands near the bottom of the world it is different. There Christmas comes in summer.

In June, July and August, the Northern children swim and picnic and walk barefoot in the woods. But during these very same months Southern Hemisphere children ride sleds and skate and wear gloves every day. For these children summer doesn't come until December and Christmas itself often comes on the hottest day of the year.

There is, of course, a scientific explanation for this strange state of affairs and you have probably heard this explanation and accepted it as, very properly, you should.

But some folk say there is another reason, not at all scientific, why December comes in summer near the South Pole while at the

Million Cheer in Pakistan For Visiting U.S. Chieftain

President Labels Welcome In Turkey as 'Stupendous'

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—President Eisenhower took with him from Turkey today memories of the greatest reception ever given a foreign visitor to the Turkish capital.

Eisenhower himself termed the welcome he received on his arrival Sunday from Rome "the most stupendous I have ever experienced."

Estimates of the crowds that cheered him ranged from a police figure of 400,000 to unofficial tallies of 700,000.

Bands played, men danced and people shouted "yasha" (long live) as the President went by, standing bareheaded in an open limousine. His arms were outstretched in greeting.

Eisenhower responded enthusiastically to this outpouring of spirit.

"I am confident," he told Turkish President Celal Bayar at a state dinner Sunday night, "that the United States, with other friends and allies, will continue to support the economic development and security of Turkey."

"I am certain this combined effort will be successful because no power on earth, no evil, no threat can frustrate a people of your spirit."

Istanbul newspapers hailed the first visit by an American president to Turkey as history-making. Press secretary James Hagerty told newsmen Eisenhower was completely overwhelmed by the welcome he got and the scores of signs on triumphal arches lining his route.

The one that impressed the President most said in English, "Welcome Ike to your second home."

A joint communique summarizing Eisenhower's talks with Bayar, Premier Adnan Menderes and other Turkish leaders cited the warmth of feeling the American executive found.

The communique said Bayar and Eisenhower agreed that any easing of tensions could not be one-sided.

The statement also urged an "effective controlled system of disarmament" and declared the "future of humanity" depends on solidarity among the free nations.

Eisenhower paused briefly Sunday in his world-wide quest for peace to draw inspiration from Pope John XXIII.

The President emerged from his 27-minute audience with the Pope's earnest wishes for God's blessing upon him. Eisenhower said he was inspired by the Pope's approval of the free world's efforts toward "peace and friendship in freedom."

The Pope also expressed "sentiments of benevolence and admiration which we cherish for the American people." He said he rejoined that the United States, under Eisenhower, is striving so actively "toward the lofty ideals of a loyal and effective concord between nations."

The President said: "I thank Your Holiness for the words you have addressed to me, my family and my country. I am also grateful for your blessing."

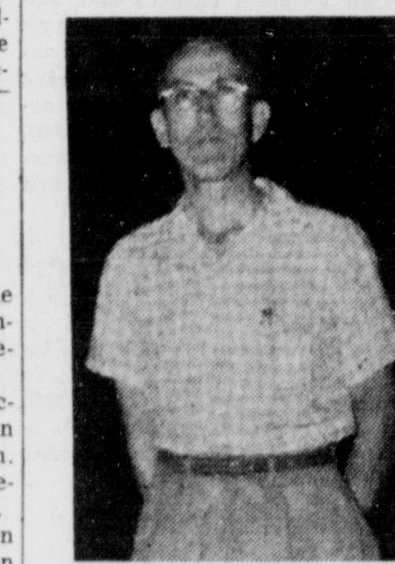

The President was accompanied by his son and daughter-in-law, Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, and James C. Hagerty, his press secretary. The Pope received them in his private library.

Ike Is Elated By Reception From Orientals

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — A million cheering Pakistanis — by official estimate — gave President Eisenhower today the most thunderous reception ever accorded a foreign visitor.

Shouting, waving people packed the streets and the roads from the airport as Eisenhower arrived from Turkey on the third stop of his 22,000-mile mission of peace.

The President was deeply moved by the outpouring of affection and called the welcome "tremendous," said James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary.

Greeting with delight, the American President stood erect in the back of a white convertible and waved to the colorfully clad Pakistanis jam-packed along his route into Pakistan's largest city.

Each time the American visitor waved his hat, the crowds responded with delighted roars of welcome.

"Eisenhower zindabad!" — "long life to Eisenhower!" — the vast throngs roared over and over.

The teeming city of two million was festooned for carnival. The Stars and Stripes and Pakistan's green and white crescent banner waved on all sides, from poles and triumphal arches. A host of steamers, of every color of the rainbow, added to the brilliance of the scene.

Karachi definitely was happy to see Ike, and Ike to see the city and its people.

Thousands of Pakistanis pushed and shoved their way into the broad corner square near the U.S. Embassy where the President and his host, President Mohammed Ayub Khan, changed from the automobile to a stately red and gold presidential coach drawn by six spanking black horses. Then the majestic, slow procession made its way to the presidential residence, where Eisenhower will make his headquarters for his 40-hour stay.

Karachi was strung with colored lights on all sides. As night fell, it looked like a city adorned for Christmas.

The President's big orange-nosed jet airliner touched down at Mauripur Air Force Base right on schedule at 3:30 p.m., after a 2,260-mile flight from Ankara, Turkey.

the President on the last 50 miles of his journey.
Eisenhower stepped from the plane with a big smile on his face to shake hands with Ayub Khan. A 21-gun salute boomed out across the field, and the Pakistani President introduced members of his government.
Eisenhower continued to smile as a navy band struck up the national anthems of the United States and Pakistan, allies in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. Then, as he and Ayub Khan reviewed an honor guard, the American President talked with great animation to his host.
Welcoming his visitor, the Pakistani President referred to his own country as the firm ally of the United States for world peace in "cooperation among like-minded nations."
Eisenhower replied that he had been "looking forward to this visit with the greatest anticipation, and I know I am not going to be disappointed."

Can Agriculture in Russia Catch Up with America's?

Editor's Note — In a short time, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev says, the Soviet Union's farms will be outproducing the United States. Can it be done? In this revealing article, the first of four based on a recent tour of the Soviet Union, an American farm expert evaluates the challenge.

By DICK HANSON
Editor, Successful Farming Magazine

Written for The Associated Press
Can the Soviet Union catch up with us agriculturally? This question could be answered with "yes" or "no," depending on the Soviets themselves.

The answer is "no" in the next 10, 15 or 20 years, if they continue their present rate of improvement. The answer could be "yes," if they should suddenly decide to throw their economic weight strongly behind agricultural improvement.

If they pulled all the stops — as the Russians apparently have done in their rocket program — Soviet agriculture could make tremendous strides in relatively short time.

At present, it appears very unlikely that such drastic steps will or can be taken. The scientific progress being made by the Soviets is probably taking its toll in other areas. Agriculture appears to be one of them. Manpower is still the big tool in increasing production in the Soviet Union as opposed to the United States, where the substitution of machine-power for manpower is the basic approach to increased efficiency.

These are some of the general conclusions derived from my recent tour of key Soviet farm areas. I found that output per laborer is the measuring stick on Russian farms. Comparing a Soviet farm worker's output with the output of an American farmer must be a frustrating experience indeed for Soviet agricultural leaders. There just isn't any comparison.

There are a number of reasons for this poor showing by Soviet farm workers.

Much of the work on a Russian farm is done by hand — whether it's digging potatoes or feeding cattle. Consequently, it takes a great many people to do the work.

The location of some of the best land in the Soviet Union is a production handicap in itself. The Ukraine, lying to the north and west of the Black Sea, is often referred to as the breadbasket of the Soviet Union. The land is good, no doubt about that. But the heart of the Ukraine is in the same latitude as Winnipeg, Canada.

This eliminates the possibility of growing a number of crops. It is too cold, and the growing season is too short. There are other areas in the Soviet Union where the climate is more favorable to such crops as corn and legumes, but just how much of this land is tillable is another matter.

It is doubtful that the average Soviet farm is making good use of fertilizer and other yield-increasing products. Under the Soviet agricultural system, it is much simpler to expand acreage than to increase yields already under cultivation.

Thousands of acres of "new" land have come under the plow in the past few years. However, a great deal of this land lies in an agriculturally hazardous sub-humid and semiarid zone east of the Volga and the Urals.

Our own foreign agricultural service reports that about 90 million acres were maddened to the Soviet crop area in the 1954-56 period. Even with low yields because of the weather, that many additional crop acres contributed greatly to the over-all Soviet farm production figures.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Three Dayton youths have admitted the theft of $5,000 from a safe Thursday at Mad River Twp. Elementary School, police say.

The youths, arrested Sunday, are Robert Ankney, 19, David Bowling, 18, and John Mason, 18. Police said $4,200 of the money, taken when a safe was hacked open in the school cafeteria, was found in a field at the rear of the school.

3 Big Ohio Cities Show No Climb in Murder Rate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The murder rate in three Ohio cities was pace in the first nine months of this year as it was in the same period of 1958.

Akron had 10 murders in each of those time spans. Cleveland had 50 murders each time. Youngstown had seven murders in each period.

The figures are taken from a new set of crime statistics compiled by the FBI from data submitted by police departments in U.S. cities of 100,000 population or more.

The FBI's murder category includes violent deaths from non negligent manslaughter.

In contrast to the murder rate in the three other Ohio cities, Canton had none in the same period this year as compared with two murders in the first nine months of last year. In Cincinnati, murders rose from 23 to 35.

Here are the comparative crime figures for Ohio cities over 100,000 in population for the first nine months of both years (1959 figures first):

Akron—Murder, non negligent manslaughter, 10 and 10; forcible rape, 10 and 34; robbery, 136 and 232; aggravated assault, 46 and 89; burglary, 1,185 and 1,182; larceny over $50, 583 and 597; auto theft, 1,004 and 893.

Canton—Murder, non negligent manslaughter, 0 and 2; forcible rape, 2 and 4; robbery, 51 and 56; aggravated assault, 11 and 13; burglary, 366 and 437; larceny over $50, 252 and 325; auto theft, 189 and 225.

Cincinnati—murder, non negligent manslaughter, 35 and 23;

forcible rape, 73 and 70; robbery, 160 and 157; aggravated assault, 190 and 236; burglary, 1,008 and 1,072; larceny over $50, 914 and 832; auto theft, 697 and 741.

Cleveland—murder, 10 and negligent manslaughter, 50 and 50; forcible rape, 57 and 64; robbery, 669 and 879; aggravated assault, 412 and 412; burglary, 1,789 and 2,209; larceny over $50, 782 and 971; auto theft, 1,689 and 1,757.

Columbus (no figures available for 1958) (1959 only) — Murder, non negligent manslaughter, 20; forcible rape, 38; robbery, 304; aggravated assault, 571; burglary, 2,181; larceny over $50, 1,416; auto theft, 860.

Dayton—murder, non negligent manslaughter, 18 and 13; forcible rape, 12 and 8; robbery, 143 and 166; aggravated assault, 213 and 160; burglary, 1,149 and 1,236; larceny over $50, 373 and 332; auto theft, 551 and 433.

Toledo—murder, non negligent manslaughter, 5 and 7; forcible rape, 20 and 17; robbery, 195 and 215; aggravated assault, 160 and 146; burglary, 1,149 and 1,311; larceny over $50, $3,075 and $2,210; auto theft, 386 and 437.

Youngstown—murder, non negligent manslaughter, 7 and 7; forcible rape, 4 and 1; robbery, 57 and 83; aggravated assault, 15 and 20; burglary, 500 and 626; larceny over $50, 407 and 483; auto theft, 251 and 172.

Record Consumption Of Steel Predicted

CLEVELAND (AP)—Barring a resumption of the steel strike, the metalworking industry will use a record 21 million tons of steel in the first three months of 1960, Steel magazine predicted today. The magazine said a major factor in its prediction is the 2.24 million cars the automobile manufacturers are said to be planning for production.

Steel inventories of the nation's metalworking plants — down to eight million tons during the 116-day steel strike—now have climbed to 8½ million tons and are expected to hit 10 million by the end of December, the publication said.

MORE PROOF...it pays to feed PURINA

Metzgers' 6000 caged hens made money in 1959

The J. E. Metzgers of Elida have combined modern poultry housing with low-cost egg production to show a profit, even at this year's low egg prices.

Operating in a new pre-fab cage house purchased through their Purina Dealer and feeding a low-cost Purina bulk ration, they have produced eggs at an average feed cost of only 15.4¢ per dozen. This is over a full year's operation on their 6000 caged layers.

"Our hens went into the cages on October 1, 1958," reported Mr. and Mrs. Metzger recently. "They peaked at 81% lay and we're still hitting 72% after a year in the cages, with normal culling. We've found it pays to feed a really good ration—Purina—to get top production with low feed cost per dozen."

Come in, let us help you get started on a low-cost ration using your grain and Purina Concentrates. This ration is producing eggs for about 13¢-15¢ a dozen total feed cost for good farmers in this area.

Sun's Power Is Untapped

Theories about converting the sun's energy into electricity are old hat, but a Michigan research scientist has come up with something new. He says it should be possible to install a solar conversion unit on the roof of a home which not only supplies current electrical needs, but stress the excess during favorable weather for use in rainy or otherwise inclement periods.

Of course, this scheme hasn't been perfected yet (it seems they never are), but is there a logical reason why it cannot be? Along with nuclear power, solar energy promises to be none of the truly far-reaching paths yet to be followed. It is the one fuel man cannot deplete, short of blowing up the planet.

Research on more efficient means of producing electrical energy is certain to increase as the industrial and consumer demand continues to grow. In many parts of the world, the incandescent light bulb is still considered a luxury. Electrical appliances are rare treasures enjoyed by only the upper crust, and even then consist of the most primitive models, long since abandoned by the more advanced societies.

Even in the Western Hemisphere, there is no shortage of traditional sources of power. Thus, as enticing as is the picture painted by contemporary dreamers of future civilizations, there is no particular need for hurrying the realization of those dreams. Expanding populations and a slow awakening by the more backward peoples to the good things of life are inevitable pointing to the day when there will be a need for innovations such as built-in roof generators activated by the sun's rays.

Human necessity is the greatest motivating force for the progress of civilization, and it is not yet ready to mobilize the resources necessary to capture the sun.

Yule Party Problem Solved

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—The executives of many companies are worried about whether to have an office Christmas party this year.

They are afraid that if they don't hold a cheery staff get-together they will offend their employees. They also are afraid that if they do allow a holiday shindig the affair will get out of hand.

Horace McGrubb, chairman of the giant Acme Tiddlywinks Co., is one corporation head who doesn't have to worry about the party problem.

He solved it a week ago with a letter.

"With the approach of the holiday season, the question again has been raised whether the Acme Tiddlywinks Co., should have an office Christmas party. In the spirit of true industrial democracy which has always animated our firm, the management has decided this is an issue that should be resolved by employee vote," he wrote.

"The management is prepared to sponsor an office Christmas party on its premises the afternoon before Christmas, or, if the employees so decide, they can instead simply take the afternoon off.

"If an office Christmas party is held, the management naturally will shoulder all expenses. Wives will be invited, of course, as we regard them as essential partners in the operation of the Acme Tiddlywinks Co.

"A plentiful supply of refreshments, consisting of apple juice and sandwiches, will be supplied, courtesy of the management.

"A tentative program for the party has been drawn up. It will consist of the following:

"A short history of the Acme Tiddlywinks Co., to be given by Miss Winifred Myopia, head of our research department.

"A brief speech by President Horace McGrubb explaining why, because of the intense competition in the tiddlywinks industry, the firm will be unable to declare a Christmas bonus this year.

"There will follow an hour of parlor charades and a number of contests, including the three-legged potato sack race. This should provide a lot of fun for all.

"The party will conclude with an hour of group Christmas carol singing, led by Mrs. Horace McGrubb, a gifted soprano who gave up a promising career to wed the head of the firm."

The letter was posted on the bulletin board.

Fifteen minutes later a spokesman entered the McGrubb's office and said:

"Sir, the employees have decided by a vote of 312-0 that they'd rather not have an office Christmas party this year."

Genius Will Expose Itself

By George Sokolsky

Just as a decade ago, Americans believed that we possessed a quality referred to blantly as "know-how," which other nations did not possess, so today we grow pessimistic over a phrase "rate of growth." The power of phrases to confuse men's minds is very potent indeed. It is almost paralytic. It makes some of us despondent because we assume that we are no longer as good as we used to be.

When we believed that we possessed know-how, which others did not possess, we were suffering from an inexcusable egotism. Actually, there is no monopoly of brains. Intelligence is individual not collective. There is no American intelligence or British intelligence or Russian intelligence. There was the intelligence of Thomas Edison, of Albert Einstein, of Guglielmo Marconi, of Dmitri Mendeleev, of Sigmund Freud, of Ludwig van Beethoven, and so one goes through names, lists of names in every category of intellectual activity. The names represent persons, not committees; men or women, not nations.

We are faced with a serious question on which you will decide the answer Tuesday.

I don't believe you voters want the Logan Elm School District to be known as the "Little Rock" of Pickaway County. I don't mean in the same sense as Little Rock, Ark., but if these levies don't pass our schools won't open next fall either.

So parents and partons, let's give the children of the Logan Elm District the same thing every other American boy and girl is entitled to—an education.

Contact Lenses Help Eyes

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Reports from California and Tokyo doctors seem to indicate that contact lenses might be of value in correcting and even at times preventing cases of crossed eyes in children.

Simply explained, crossed eyes is a slippage of eye alignment. The causes are many and range from nearsightedness to congenital cataract.

Crossed eyes presents more than a visual problem. Emotional and social problems also must be considered, not only for the youngster, but for his parents as well.

So these reports of the use of contact lenses to help solve the problems is a rather important development.

According to Dr. Tutomu Sato, chief ophthalmologist at Tokyo University, 30 Japanese infants were fitted with contact lenses. The youngsters ranged in age from eight months to ten years.

They were fitted with the lenses in an effort to correct serious vision disorders, to correct simple nearsightedness, or following the removal of cataracts.

Contacts were used because the patients were too young to wear frames or because the vision problems would not respond to correction by spectacles.

As the research neared an end, Dr. Sato noted an amazing effect: there were no signs of crossed eyes in any of the children that were observed.

Now Dr. Sato and his associates had definitely anticipated development of such defects in more than half of the tiny patients.

The doctors launched a new study to try to determine why none of the 30 children developed crossed eyes.

Their conclusion: the wearing of contact lenses prevented it.

The doctors also reported "great benefits" when contact lenses were applied immediately after healing procedures following surgical treatment of cataracts of babies and children.

Now let's get back to the crossed eye problem.

The "Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Monthly" reported that Dr. J. Myron Middleton, of California, found contact lenses helpful in improving the sight of a three-year-old albino boy.

The youngster had been enrolled in a sight-saving school until "contact lenses helped the child attain vision comparable with other children in his age group."

In addition, the report says, the child lost traces of crossed eyes.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon is like a farmer whose planting is finished and who is sitting now on his front porch, keeping cool, saying little, and waiting for the crops to grow.

For an ambitious politician he's in an enviable position.

He is front-runner for the Republican presidential nomination and at this moment everything is working for him. His troubles—if they come—won't come until next year. So he doesn't have to do much talking or scampering around.

With President Eisenhower out of the country for almost a month, he is the top-ranking government official in the United States. He'll be the man for the politicians to see and the Eisenhower Cabinet to talk to.

Just by being here he'll stay in the public eye, which has been a pretty permanent location for him ever since 1953. If somehow, while Eisenhower is away, he can be a factor in settling the steel dispute, that's so much extra gravy.

Nixon's predecessors in the vice presidency had little to do. Eisenhower changed that. He has made more use of his vice president than any other President. That fact alone has kept Nixon in the national consciousness for almost seven years.

Nixon's assignments from Eisenhower, and the way he made use of them, could not but help him politically.

For instance: his trip to the Soviet Union, his arguments with Premier Nikita Khrushchev, his journey through Sovietland, all amply reported back home by press and television.

Then there was the bitter Latin American trip. The treatment given him—the stones and the spit, not because he was Nixon but because he was an American official and Latin Americans were sore at the United States—got him broad sympathy at home.

So far he hasn't even had to be excited about the only rival he has in sight in the Republican party—New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Up to this point Rockefeller has looked like an early bather, going in for his first swim in May, carefully, gingerly, sticking in a toe, pulling it back, testing the water to see if it's warm enough.

All through the vice presidency Nixon has acted like a good housekeeper. He has worked at keeping his political precincts tidy. In his case it has meant lining up

Republicans, particularly Republican leaders, on his side.

He seems to have them pretty well lined up, at least the Republican pros. It's a little too soon for him to judge what the rank-and-file Republicans might think if they actually had to choose between him and Rockefeller.

That's a problem Nixon won't have to face at all if Rockefeller backs out before trying for a showdown. The vice president will have to hustle if Rockefeller decides to run against him in presidential primaries.

But that can't happen until 1960. So, since he doesn't have to do any bush-beating right now, Nixon isn't.

Ohio Legion Chiefs Back Loyalty Oaths

Eisenhower Administration Eyes Vast Changes in REA

WASHINGTON (AP)—There are indications that top Eisenhower Administration officials want to make changes in the Rural Electrification Administration. This is something that affects thousands of REA power consumers in Ohio.

What the White House wants is (1) to curtail REA activities, and (2) to adjust upward the two per cent interest rate on loans to REA co-ops.

Whether the White House would attempt to get any part of this plan through Congress next year is not yet known. But there is little doubt the Administration still is interested.

As an illustration, Maurice H. Stans, director of the Bureau of the Budget, referred to REA in a recent magazine article as a depression-born institution that has been allowed to keep growing.

"The startling fact is that three out of four new users currently power systems) are non-farm users," Stans wrote. "About one-half of REA electric power goes to industries, communities or non-farm families."

"The reasonable approach is that REA co-ops should now be able to get some of their financing from other than government sources, especially for non-farm purposes that compete with taxed private industry."

Stans did not mention raising the interest. But President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson have.

They point out that money currently costs the government 3 1/2 to 4 per cent and that REA turns around and lends it to expanding co-ops at 2 per cent. They want the interest rate adjusted to the cost of the money to the government.

REA supporters greet any such suggestions with protests that private industry often gets special subsidies, too, and that the rate should be left alone. On one point there can be little debate: REA, in its 24 years of existence, has been a major factor in the production of cheap electricity for Ohio farms.

When REA started in 1935, 18.8 per cent of Ohio farms were electrified. Now, 97.9 per cent of these farms have electricity. Of all Ohio farms with electricity, 41 per cent of them buy from REA co-ops.

Other statistics: Ohio's 30 rural electric systems have borrowed $5 serve 135,000 farms and other rural consumers from about 30,000 miles of line.

Ohio borrowers—and not one is overdue on payments—have paid back $19,300,000 of principal on loans plus $10,100,000 in interest.

Will there be a fight in the next session to change REA? One thing to watch is to see whether Eisenhower mentions it in his State of the Union message—to be delivered to Congress in January.

But even if he does, it is still a touchy subject that might be quietly dropped in an election year.

Planned Parenthood for Dogs?

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the farmers' wife who had over 300 dogs and cats dropped off on her property in the last 14 years interested me.

Few people realize the seriousness of the abandoned animal problem. It is estimated that over 33 million puppies and kittens are born in this country every year. Of this number, about 20 million are left to die in suffering.

So long as people allow their pets to produce puppies and kittens in greater numbers than they can feed and care for, the problem will persist. The Humane Society is trying to persuade people to have their female dogs sprayed and their male cats altered. If they would, it would solve this problem quickly. Can you help to spread the word?

MONTGOMERY
DEAR MONTGOMERY: I can try, but I am not optimistic. In a world where people are producing more people than they can feed and care for, it will be no easy task to undertake a "Planned Parenthood" crusade for animals.

DEAR ABBY: I am 21 and Dick is 26. We are engaged to be married. Lately Dick has been going out of town every week-end with his bachelor friends. They either take along some girls (not nice ones) or meet them there.

I could forgive him if this happened only once, but it has been happening regularly every week-end. Dick says he wants to "live a little" before settling down to married life. Do I have a right to complain, or haven't I?

ENGAGED WITH A RING
DEAR ENGAGED: This kind of "living" has been the death of many engagements. The only woman who is more miserable than the "sweetheart" of a cavorting suitor is the wife of a cavorting husband. A word to the wise . . .

DEAR ABBY: I am going to write this fast and mail it before I lose my nerve. I have written to you several times but I always tore up the letters.

I have been married seven years and my problem is my husband. He likes to wear women's clothing. I didn't know this until I found some of my things missing. When I caught him red-handed he admitted that he had taken some of my clothes and had worn them.

Abby, I am almost crazy with worry. I think this is against the law and I'm afraid he will get arrested. If they find out about him at work he will lose his job. The children and I need him. Can you please tell me what to do?

UNSIGN
DEAR UNSIGNED: Your husband is sick. It doesn't matter how you do it, but get him to a doctor. He needs professional help .

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

'Buy American' Campaign Is Waged Abroad

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — While President Eisenhower is busy selling America overseas other U.S. officials are busy preaching buy American to recipients of our bounty.

They don't propose much change in the total of our foreign aid. But they hold that those who get it should use these dollars to buy American products rather than those of our competitors.

Buy American is part of a drive to end the American trade deficit that has drained away part of our gold reserves and built up large foreign investments in U. S. securities that could be used to drain away still more gold.

The buy American policy is controversial. Opponents charge it aims at curbs on freely moving world trade at a time when we are urging other nations to lower their import quotas and tariff barriers against American goods.

They contend that the nations who receive our aid should shop where they can get the best value — and that high prices of American products are our real export problems.

Advocates of buy American if you get American hand-outs point out that the policy is only one part of the drive to relieve the United States of carrying the major part of the burden of reviving the stricken or modernizing the underdeveloped.

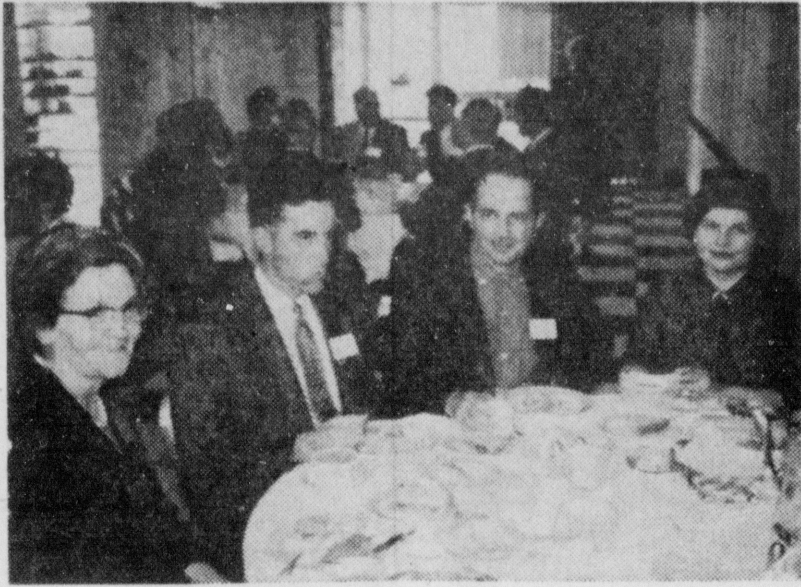

The billions of dollars that the United States poured out since World War II has helped Western Europe to great industrial prosperity. Along with Japan it has become a serious competitor of American industry in world markets. As the underdeveloped nations become industrialized with our help, they, too, will compete in markets we once considered ours alone.

Douglas Dillon U.S. undersecretary of state, is in London for talks with British officials on trade matters. The specific problem is the threat that two great trade combines are being set up in Western Europe and that they may further weaken America's trading position.

The dollars and cents problem is simply that we have continued to import in large volume. But while we were spending our dollars for these goods, and spending more billions in military and economic aid and still more for establishments overseas and in travel by American tourists, our exports have declined. The dollar outgo became more than the dollar income. Hence the loss of gold.

The drain of gold, most agree, hasn't seriously endangered our reserves — so far. In fact, most contend that the redistribution of the gold hoard in the world has been healthy.

FARM BUREAU OFFICIALS — Here are four members of the Pickaway County Farm Bureau pictured attending a leadership conference in Columbus last week. From the left they are Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, Chester Noecker and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunkel. Approximately 300 farmers from all sections of Ohio attended the session.

Local Farm Bureau Officials Attend Leadership Meeting

County farmers were back home today with some added methods of better carrying out Pickaway County's Farm Bureau program in 1960 after spending two days in a leadership conference in Columbus last week.

Pickaway County Farm Bureau Organization Director Don

DISAGREES WITH IKE—Taking up the birth control question in his Detroit office, the Rev. R. Norris Wilson, executive director of the Church World Service, says it would be a "disgrace" if the U. S. refused birth control help to overpopulated nations. President Eisenhower has said such nations should apply to private organizations, not to governments. The CWS is the worldwide food distribution and relief arm of the National Council of Churches.

Politt said five farmers from this area attended the meetings with him. They were Chester Noecker representing President Turney Glick, Legislative Representative Lawrence Reid, Women's Committee Chairman Mrs. J. B. Stevenson and Young People's Chairman Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunkel.

"In addition to having the opportunity to compare notes with local farm leaders from every part of Ohio, the group heard top speakers discuss leadership and agriculture," Politt said.

Some of the highlights were T. C. Peterson, American Farm Bureau Federation, who spoke on "Is Your Moose Call in Tune," and Dr. Floyd Faust, Minister of the Broad St., Christian Church in Columbus.

NEARLY 300 farmers attended the sessions, Politt said.

More than a dozen Advisory Council committees were honored at the Leadership Conference with an award for organizing three or more new Farm Bureau advisory councils in 1959.

Here Are Yule Kitchen Tips

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

At this time of year come pleasures from cooks who are planning gifts for other kitchen devotees. Which new cook book is suitable for a friend? If there are epicures on your holiday list, you may wish to consider these two nominations.

"The Classic French Cuisine" by Joseph Donon (Knopf) — for almost 40 years the author was America's most famous and reportedly highest-paid chef to a private family. Since his retirement M. Donon has given much of his time to helping along the training of young professional cooks; the same zeal with which he aids them has gone into the working out of his book. There are enough simple recipes in "The Classic French Cuisine" to encourage novice cooks and plenty more to keep accomplished chefs happy. Covered in gold cloth and handsomely printed, this book is an authoritative and pleasant guide.

"Classic Cooking" by John Marshall (Duell, Sloan and Pearce) is subtitled "A New Approach to French Cuisine." It was written at the request of his daughter, on the occasion of her marriage, by a man whose hobby is cooking. Its menus and recipes were tested for a privately issued version of this book and again when the present edition was being prepared. Beginning chapters on such important subjects as shopping, seasoning, menu-making and serving are interestingly knowledgeable. Menus number 30 and exact directions for preparing them are given; most of these are for dinner for two, but some are for luncheon and supper, and a buffet for 10 to 15 is also included. Short chapters on hors d'oeuvre, soups, sauces, special dishes, salads, aspics and desserts make good reading and should result in fine cooking.

BRIOCHE

(From "The Classic French Cuisine" by Joseph Donon)

Ingredients: 1 cup warm water, 3 cups flour, 1 tablespoon powdered sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup sweet butter, 4 eggs.

Method: Dissolve the yeast in the warm water and mix it with 1/2 cup of the flour. Knead the dough well and put it in a bowl two-thirds full of warm water to rise. Sift the remaining flour in a mound on a pastry board and make a well in the center. Add the sugar, salt, and the eggs, lightly beaten, and knead thoroughly to make a smooth dough. When the sponge rises to the surface of the warm water, work it into the dough. Soften the butter by kneading it with the hands, and work it into the dough. Put the dough in a bowl, sprinkle it lightly with flour, and set it in a moderately warm place to rise until it is double in bulk, from 2 to 3 hours. Punch the dough down and chill it overnight. Cut off one-fourth of the dough and form it into a ball. Shape the rest into a large ball and put it in a buttered, bowl-shaped brioche mold. Cut a cross in the top of the large ball and insert the small ball in it to make the head, or crown of the brioche. Let the brioche rise in a warm place until it doubles in bulk. Brush with lightly beaten egg yolk and bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees) for an hour, until the brioche is browned and tests done. Individual brioches may be made, if preferred, and baked for about 20 minutes.

same time coming in the winter at the North Pole. If you can believe these folk it is all because of Santa Claus and Onik, the Eskimo boy, and the way the two of them long ago tamed the Ice King of the North.

Here is the story they tell:

Once upon a time, in a far away Northern land, there lived a little Eskimo boy named Onik. He lived with his family in an igloo on the edge of the Arctic Sea.

Nearby there were eight other igloos where other families lived. Together they formed an Eskimo village.

The Eskimos were hunters. In the winter they hunted seal and walrus and polar bear. In the summer, when their snow houses melted and grass covered the land they hunted reindeer and rabbit and birds.

One year it seemed that the winter was colder than anyone could ever remember. The icy winds blew all the time and the snow drifted high over the village. Sometimes, when Onik and his father returned home from hunting they had trouble finding the floor to their own home because it was buried in new-fallen snow.

And sometimes the cold was so intense that all the villagers stayed in their snow houses for weeks at a time.

The worst part of it was that the hunting was poor for even the seal and the polar bear did not wish to come out in such weather. So food ran low in the village and Onik was often lucky to have even one hunk of frozen seal blubber as his only meal of the day.

One day as the family sat together in the igloo Onik's father said, "The days are beginning to be longer than the nights and the Spring Moon shines in the sky. That means winter is over and soon the ice will melt, birds will fly and flowers will grow."

"And we will trail reindeer in the hills!" cried Onik rolling over and throwing his arms around his dog Keotuk.

"I can hardly wait," said his sister Popik. "Oh, it will be good to live in our summer tents and hunt for bird eggs in the grass!"

"And we will be warm again!" cried their mother. "Oh, I will be glad when this miserable winter is gone!"

But weeks went by and May came and June and even July passed by and still the icy winds blew and the snow piled higher

Circleville Coed Winner Of Voice Test

Miss Donna Mitchell, a senior at the College of Wooster, has been selected as winner of the district competition of the "Singer of the Year" contest of the National Association of Teachers of Singing. Announcement of her successful competition was made by Dr. F. E. Ohl, of Heidelberg College, Tiffin, Ohio, chairman of the district contest.

Miss Mitchell, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. D. E. Mitchell, is majoring in music at the College of Wooster, where she is a student of voice of Eve Roine Richmond.

Her next competition will be the central regional contest, for singers from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Missouri and Ohio, to be held at the Netherlands - Hilton Hotel in Cincinnati, December 27. The winner of the regional contest will go to the finals December 29, also in Cincinnati, where the Singer of the Year will be chosen.

To qualify for entrance in the contest, Miss Richmond pointed out, a student must meet exacting requirements. These include specified operatic and oratorical arias in an hour-long program consisting of a group of early Italian and classic songs, French, German and English compositions. To win recognition in this contest is the highest competitive award given in singing in this country, she noted.

and even the hunters' sleds froze to the ice and it was a job to move them at all.

Then the Eskimos were truly frightened. They went to the igloo of Miski, the wise man of the village.

"What has happened?" they cried. "Why has summer not come?"

Old Miski sucked in his ancient cheeks and stared at the ground. Then he said, "The Ice King of the North is very angry. To placate him we must have a festival in his honor. Then the icy winds will stop and summer will come to Eskimo land."

Tiger Rally Fails; Athens Moves to 54-51 Cage Win

Despite a fine comeback in the second quarter, Circleville's cage Tigers suffered a heartbreaking 54-51 defeat to the invading Bulldogs of Athens Saturday night.

The battling Tigers trailed 18-9 at the end of the first quarter, but suddenly found themselves in the second canto to take a 27-26 lead at halftime.

Staying in contention all the way, the veteran Bulldog cagers reversed the situation in the third period to command a 42-41 lead as the quarter ended.

Making few mistakes in the final chapter, the Bulldogs hung on with grim determination to fight off a last minute onslaught by the Tigers. CHS hopes faded when Center Larry Hannahs committed his fifth personal with about 20 seconds remaining.

A HECTIC third quarter saw the lead trade hands six times in a basket-for-basket thriller. The Bulldogs forged ahead early in the fourth quarter and remained there. Lanky Bob Shadley spurred the Tigers in a thrilling comeback in the second quarter and hit for six straight points in the third period to keep the Tigers in the running. He ended the night with 19 points, high for both teams.

Hannahs, slowed with three personal during the dramatic third and fourth episodes, contributed 11 points on five buckets and one foul toss. Shadley's production was the result of eight goals and three charity throws.

Russ Wickerham, Athens' 6-1 veteran forward, sparked the visitors with 16 points, six of them coming at the foul line. Steve Chase, 6-4 center, dumped in 14. Dick Blosser, hitting from the side with deadly consistency, aided with 10 markers.

CHS jumped to an early 2-0 lead when Shadley hit on a drive. Wickerham retaliated with a foul shot and Larry Riggs potted a jump toss to put Athens ahead.

Linden Gibson then striped a long one for the Tigers, but the lead soon disappeared as Wickerham drove in for a bucket. The visitors then surged to an 18-9 margin as the quarter ended.

BAILEY quickly went to work for the Tigers to rack five straight points on two buckets and a foul shot to narrow the count to 20-14. This counterattack gained momentum as Shadley, Hannahs, and Dave Hicks started to hit in rapid succession to give the locals a 27-26 advantage as the first half ended.

Shadley closed the cap to 26-25 on two free throws, then sent the Tigers into a 27-26 lead on a jump shot with only a few seconds remaining until the half. In the third quarter Shadley hit three straight jump short, but Blosser, Riggs and Wickerham also were connecting for Athens to keep the Tigers in check.

Circleville enjoyed its fast lead late in the third stanza when Hannahs netted one from underneath to give the locals a 41-40 margin. Four bonus tosses by Athens' Ronnie Begg allowed the Bulldogs to go ahead, 44-41.

With the fourth quarter reaching the halfway mark, Hicks ripped a long one-hander to cut Athens' lead to 46-45. The Bulldogs then notched five straight points to dim local hopes.

Hicks, trying desperately to narrow the enemy lead, drove one in on a neat layup to chop the count to 51-48. Wickerham dropped one in from the side and Blosser hit one of two at the foul line to keep the visitors ahead.

THE best Circleville could do in the closing seconds was a foul toss by Bailey and a two-pointer from under by Hannahs.

Circleville outscored the Bulldogs from the field, 22-20, but the opponents dropped in 14 of 21 foul tosses while the Tigers made seven of 17.

Closeness of the game was indicated by the shooting averages of both teams. Circleville made good on 22 of 60 attempts for 36.6 per cent. Athens hit 20 of 51 tries for 39.2 per cent.

BAILEY sparked on defense as he repeatedly pilfered the ball. He scored seven points on two baskets and three foul shots.

Hicks came on early in the game to stand out as a ballhandler and playmaker. He tallied six points, making good on all three of his field goal attempts.

Athens made it a double sweep by taking the reserve contest, 46-23. The young Bulldogs bounced to a 11-5 lead in the first quarter and remained ahead at the half, 23-10.

THE CHS Kittens had difficulty finding the range, although they worked themselves free for shots. Freddie Moore paced the Kittens with seven points, followed by Dick Kline's five. Gary Wickham was high for the winners with 16.

Coach Dick Snouffer said his cagers need more work on offensive patterns. He said this point will be stressed until Friday when the Tigers journey to Washington C.H. for their second South Central Ohio League encounter. They downed Franklin Heights Friday in their first loop test.

Sanders Pockets Coral Gables Purse

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Doug Sanders of Miami Beach won the $25000 Coral Gables open tournament with a four-round total of 273 over the 6,563-yard par 71 Biltmore layout. The previous record was 281, set by Hrn Smith in 1935.

Sanders achieved his total with rounds of 68, 71, 69 and 65, and it was his final 65 which brought him first money of $2,880.

He started the final day one stroke back of Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa. Finsterwald shot a 2-under-par 69 Sunday, good enough for a 276 total and second place, but Palmer took a 72 and wound up in a triple tie for third with 279. Julius Boros of Mid Pines N.C., and Johnny Pott of Shreveport, La., also were in the 279 bracket.

Giants Clobber Browns To Win Conference Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A shrewd Mississippian, his good-looking sidekick and a 230-pound one-man wrecking crew comprise the key trio for the New York Giants, Eastern Conference champions in the National Football League for the second consecutive year.

The clever Mississippian is quarterback Charlie Conerly, who revitalized a non-existent Giant attack with his pin-point passing and first-rate signal calling in the last three games en route to the Eastern crown.

The final measure of Conerly's

success—after returning from an ankle injury that sidelined him while the Giants floundered—came Sunday when he passed for three touchdowns and engineered a 48-7 rout of the Cleveland Browns to wrap up the title.

The good-looker is halfback Frank Gifford, Hollywood-bound with a movie contract when he leaves pro football. Gifford, the main cog in New York's ground attack, poured it on against the Browns. He scored twice and packing away 175 yards running and pass receiving.

The wrecker is middle linebacker Sam Huff. His job was to stop Jimmy Brown. Huff handed Cleveland's league-leading ground savor so effectively he gained only 50 yards in 15 tries. Brown has been averaging over a 100 a game.

While the Giants won in the East and started looking toward a replay of last year's championship game with Baltimore, the defending champion Colts clinched a tie for the crown in the Western Division.

Led by quarterback Johnny Unitas, who set an NFL record for most TD passes in one season, the Colts won their showdown battle for first place with San Francisco as they defeated the 49ers 34-14 in a Saturday game.

The Colts lead the 49ers and Chicago Bears by one game with one left to play. The Bears moved into a tie for the runner-up spot Sunday by beating Pittsburgh 27-21 for their sixth straight win.

In other games Sunday, Philadelphia took over second place in the East with a 34-14 thumping of Washington. Detroit clobbered Chicago's Cardinals 45-21 and Green Bay defeated Los Angeles 38-20.

Bud Kennedy is in his 12th season as basketball coach at Florida State.

Scioto Loses 60-40 Test to Bishop Hartley

Scioto, faced with its problem of inexperience, dropped a 60-40 cage test at Bishop Hartley High in Columbus Saturday night.

It marked the third loss in three starts for Coach Joe Corbett's squad, one less than the total number of defeats suffered last season. The Buffaloes currently are working on a rebuilding program.

Bishop Hartley raced to a 15-7 lead in the first quarter, but the Buffaloes rebounded to cut the margin to 23-17 at halftime.

The hosts iced the game in the third stanza by scoring 19 points while the best Scioto could do was nine.

BILL Hoover, hitting on his favorite push shot from the side, paced Scioto with 17 points. Bob White-side came through with seven.

Bishop Hartley was sparked by R. Matlock's 21 tallies, most of them coming from close in. Warren added 10.

The hosts made a clean sweep by taking the reserve contest, 24-20. Scioto's next game is slated Friday in a home test with William-sport.

Tiger Wrestlers Drop Close Test

Circleville High School's aggressive wrestling team dropped a narrow 24-19 decision to Dayton Fairmont here Saturday.

A stroke of bad luck for Coach John Current's grapplers handed the match to Fairmont. Tim Morgan, the Tigers' choice in the 103-pound class, was declared one pound overweight and the visitors gained five points by forfeit.

The Tigers lost one bout in the last few seconds after leading on points. The eight-point difference would have meant a match victory for Circleville.

Each bout provided a thrill-a-second as matmen from both teams churned and scrambled to subdue their opponents. A large crowd of enthusiastic fans were on hand.

DAVE Troutman put CHS into a quick lead by pinning Yoshimura of Fairmont in the 112-pound class. Scrapy Bob Owens had his opponent all the way, but lost the bout in the last few seconds on a pin.

Heavyweight Rupert Rudd gave the Tigers a strong finish when he swarmed over his opponent for a pin only seconds after his bout started. The blockbusting Tiger had little trouble after forcing his adversary to the canvas.

Gaining three points each on decisions were Tigers Chuck McDowell, Phil Wing, and Danny Leonhardt. McDowell battled in the 133 pound class, Wing in the 154 division and Leonhardt in the 165 category.

The match was closely contested all the way with most of the bouts going the full time limit. Fairmont was rated one of the

College Cage Powers Foco Critical Test at Early Date

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
One week doesn't make a season, but two might — particularly the next two for the likes of St. Louis, West Virginia, Ohio State, North Carolina and Indiana in major college basketball.

The season, just a week old, finds suspected powers Kentucky, Kansas State, North Carolina State and Louisville already beaten. Now all four put the test to the rest.

St. Louis, unbeaten in three games that included road decisions over St. John's (NY) and K-State, has the toughest job in the next two weeks, even though two of the four games in that span will be played on the Billikens' home court. North Carolina (1-0) doesn't figure to have things easy either.

The Bills, beating K-State 67-58 last Saturday for the Wildcats' first home defeat since 1957, play Ohio State Wednesday and Kentucky Saturday at St. Louis. Next week they jump into the University of Kentucky Invitation Tournament against so far unbeaten West Virginia plus North Carolina and host Kentucky.

Before North Carolina, which opened with a 93-56 Atlantic Coast Conference victory over South Carolina last Saturday, gets to the tournament at Lexington, Ky., the Tar Heels join NC State in a Friday-Saturday doubleheader duel with Kansas and Kansas State at Raleigh.

North Carolina plays Kansas Friday while NC State, surprised by Wake Forest 73-59, plays K-State. The two Carolina schools then swap foes on Saturday.

Kansas, which opened with a 76-67 victory at Northwestern last Saturday, is at home against Texas Tech (1-1) tonight in a heavy schedule that pairs unbeaten in,

Butler-Ohio State, Indiana-Missouri, Houston-Texas A & M and New Mexico State-Utah.

California, the NCAA champion, breezed as expected against the school's Santa Barbara branch, 59-47, last Friday and goes against San Francisco (0-2) Tuesday night. West Virginia (4-0), the NCAA runner-up, plays Richmond in a Southern Conference game Tuesday.

Southern California, after dropping two games by a total of five points to UCLA and Santa Clara, knocked off Kentucky 87-73 Saturday.

Georgia Tech (3-0) spilled Louisville 68-56. The Cardinals now play Furman again tonight, Eastern Kentucky (Thursday) and Davidson (Saturday) before meeting Cincinnati next week.

Cincinnati, 2-0 after whipping Marshall 102-61 Saturday as Oscar Robertson, again playing only part time, scored 43 points, plays Miami (Ohio) tonight, West Virginia's Jerry West, paired with Robertson as the only returning All-Americans this season, scored 18 points in 27 minutes as the Mountaineers walked Furman 96-63 for their 52nd consecutive Southern Conference success.

As for tonight's unbeaten foes, Ohio State (3-0) beat Pitt 94-49 Saturday while Butler (3-0) defeated little Wabash 62-55. Indiana (1-0), picked to top the Big Ten, handled Ball State with expected ease, 103-63, and Missouri (2-0) snuffed Arkansas a possible Southwest Conference threat, 75-51, in a Friday game.

Houston (3-0) defeated McMurray 92-51 while Texas A & M (2-0) beat Trinity (Tex.) 86-46. New Mexico State handed San Francisco a 72-63 setback and Utah opened with a 104-80 job on Los Angeles State ates.

Ohio Gun Season for Deer Slated To Open Thursday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's three-day gun season for deer—the 14th in modern times—opens at 9 a. m. Thursday, and there are some rules the first-time deer hunter should know.

The season ends at 5 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 12, and hunters will be permitted to take one deer of any age or sex.

But hunters are restricted to shotguns loaded with rifled slugs or pumpkin balls. Rifles are not permitted.

The archery season for deer, which opened Oct. 15, runs through Dec. 31. Last year, fewer than 43,000 deer hunters bagged 4,413 deer in a four-day hunting season. Normally, only one deer hunter in 10 is successful in getting a deer.

The deer herd is statewide in distribution with most of them in the wooded eastern half of the state. Each year the distribution becomes more widespread. In 1957 deer were reported killed in 63 counties; last year they were taken in 72 counties.

Eugene Knoder, forest game biologist of the Division of Wildlife, reports the deer population may be slightly lower than last year.

An Ohio pheasant season that turned out better than predicted ends at 5 p. m. next Wednesday. The quail and Hungarian partridge season closes at the same time.

Hayden Olds, wildlife chief, reported that pheasant hunting, while not equal to the best years, was better than expected by the division officials and sportsmen. Success on Hungarian partridges was poor, as these birds are scarce.

Six Hamilton County fish and game clubs purchased 110 cock pheasants for release on public hunting areas in a program started by Dale Roach, Hamilton County game protector. The Division of Wildlife said it marked one of the first examples of cooperative effort in using private conservation clubs funds to stock public hunting lands. The pheasants were released a few days after opening of the season at Stonelick Lake State Park in Clermont County, and Miamitown public hunting area in Hamilton County.

An experiment in muskie production at the Wildlife Division's Kincaid Springs Hatchery has ended successfully. John Walker, fish management supervisor of District 6, reported that more than 5,000 inch-long muskies fry were obtained from the hatchery in May. These little muskies were reared in three hatchery ponds.

In early November, the ponds were drained and 196 muskies ranging from seven to 16 inches in length were recovered and stocked in 700-acre Cowan Lake in Clinton County.

Walker termed this survival and growth rate successful and said the experimental program will be continued whenever muskie fry are available.

AL Chiefs Expected To Extend Study

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—An American League committee was to report on expansion plans today with strong indications it would recommend continued study.

While the major league officially opened their winter meetings, President Branch Rickey of the five-team Continental League, the proposed third major, was due to confer with his owners at the same hotel.

Rickey had called a meeting for Tuesday morning but is expected to huddle on an informal basis tonight with representatives of the five founding cities.

Bob Howsam of Denver and Jack Kent Cooke of Toronto already are on the scene and others are expected.

The Continental plans to issue a statement after the American League makes known its position on expansion.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick also has said he will have a statement. He has urged the American to take a definite stand on expansion. The league indicated in October it was considering expansion, possibly in 1961.
